Nations Along Channel Take Stock of Damage

HEAVY TOLL IN LIVES AND PROPERTY EXACTED BY GALE

MANY SAILORS STILL MISSING, EXACT CHECK OF LOSS OF LIFE IMPOSSIBLE

STORM NOW SWEEPS ON TO IRELAND AND ENGLAND

Brest, France, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Nations on both sides of the English Channel took stock today of the toll in lives and property damage exacted by the storm which raged 36 hours.

The 70-mile-an-hour wind, which caused extensive damage to shipping and left behind an undetermined number of dead, had abated.

Many sailors were still reported missing, making an exact check of the loss of life impossible.

Five persons, Captain Lammers, his wife and child, and two sailors were drowned when the Dutch motorboat Foxhol capsized near the mouth of the Thames, according to sailors from the Foxhol who were picked up by the French trawler Notre Dame Des Ardents.

The British steamer Illingworth arriving at Le Havre from Galveston, reported that a mechanic had been swept overboard. The captain of the steamer Oregon reported that a seaman was killed by a cable, snapped during the storm.

Five persons were drowned in the tiny port of Concarneau, near Brest, when they were swept off ships.

The steamer British Advocate radioed that it had rescued the crew of the Greek vessel Theodore Bulgariis. The Greek ship was derelict and listed as a menace to navigation.

Smaller fishing craft suffered chiefly in the enormous damage done by the storm. Wreckage was strewn on the rocks and sands at many points on the French coast. The air was filled with S. O. S. calls during the gale.

The liner Rochambeau was 24 hours late at Le Havre after it had gone off its course to aid a cargo vessel in distress. The crew was picked up by the liner.

The Italian oil tanker Tuscania sent a radio message saying its damaged steering apparatus had been repaired and that it was continuing on its course.

The tug Iroise brought the steamer Univaldi into port here with all members of the crew safe. The Univaldi's wheel house had been damaged.

London, Sept. 13.—The storm that raged over Britain and the English Channel during the week-end swept on to the North Sea today, after inflicting damage estimated at $5,000,000 in the British Isles. Full reports of the damage to shipping were not yet available.

The Dutch, German, Danish and Norwegian coasts were in the line of the storm. Meanwhile a new low pressure area was approaching from the Atlantic and was expected to strike southern Ireland and England.

STOCK MARKET VALUES LOSE BILLION DOLLARS TODAY

New York, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Stock market values lost more than a billion dollars in heavy selling today.

Prices collapsed in every section of the list. Thousands of shares were thrown overboard. Selling gathered momentum until the new high speed tickers were hard pressed to keep pace with the dealings.

United States Steel dropped to a new low on the movement and the issue lost more than $34,000,000 in market value.

American Telephone lost $56,000,000 in market valuation; International Telephone $8,000,000; Standard Oil of New Jersey $37,000,000; General Electric $42,000,000; Columbia Gas $17,000,000; Consolidated Gas $44,000,000; General Motors $48,000,000; DuPont $42,000,000; Radio $12,000,000; Union Carbide $19,000,000 and North American $28,000,000.

Prices were off 1 to 9 points. Utah Copper, which has not been out for three months, sold at 145 which, allowing for the dividend of $2 paid since it last sold, represented a decline of 40 points. The stock is now on an $8 annual dividend basis, against $20 annually paid last year.

Report on Post Office Leasing Given President

Washington, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—The post office department's report on the post office leasing situation, particularly in St. Paul, which was made to President Hoover on Saturday, will be made public "within a few days," White House attaches said today.

DECREPIT TRAINING PLANE BLAMED FOR DEATH OF 2 FLIERS

Madera, Calif., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—A decrepit training plane was blamed today for the deaths of two aviators who were crushed when the old war time "Jenny" dropped, with motor roaring, from a height of 200 feet and crashed.

Norman T. Price, an aviator on furlough from the naval aircraft carrier Lexington, and J. Earl Crane, Madera mechanic, were the victims.

Crane was killed instantly and Price lived only 20 minutes. The plane had been used by flying students here.

QUASH ATTEMPT AT A REVOLT IN CONCEPTION, CHILE

2 POLITICAL EXILES ARRESTED AND WILL BE COURT MARTIALED

OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE ISSUED TODAY AT SANTIAGO, CHILE

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Political exiles who attempted to instigate a revolutionary movement among troops at Concepcion have been arrested and will be tried by court martial, an official communique issued today said.

The exiles were brought to Chile in an airplane piloted by two Americans, according to the communique.

The communique added that the movement was a failure from the "first moment" and that the entire country was calm. The government was ready to use all necessary measures to repress any attempt against order, the communique said.

The attempt at a subversive movement was described in the communique as follows:

"At about 5 P. M. on Sunday an airplane landed near Concepcion, piloted by two North Americans and carrying the retired General Brique Bravo, Ex-Consul Marmadueque Grove and three civilians, Luis Salas Romo, Carlos Vicuna Fuentes and Pedro Leon Uvalde. All came from Argentina.

"They went to the barracks of the Chacabuco regiment, which they found almost deserted, as Sunday was a holiday. The revolutionists conversed with the guard, attempting to instigate subversion, but the troops did not accede to their insinuations.

"Military authorities adopted strict measures to maintain order. General Barcelo Lira, commander of the garrison, went to the Chacabuco barracks where he ordered the arrest of the rebels. At 1 A. M. today they were transferred to the naval station at Talcahuano. Their trial has been ordered by court martial.

"News of the incidents did not spread widely in Concepcion, as they took place rapidly and were confined to the barracks. The city is completely quiet.

"Officials and troops with which the revolutionaries came in contact maintained under discipline loyalty to their duties.

"The entire country remains absolutely calm.

"The government is entirely in command of the situation and is disposed to use all methods to repress energetically any attempt against order, similar to that which failed in Concepcion."

TWINS HAVE LIVES AND DEEDS ALIKE AS 2 PEAS IN POD

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Herman and Albert Jackson, 30, are identical twins and their lives have always been identical too, even in such matters as marriages, divorces and jail sentences.

They were sent to Pontiac reformatory together, for burglary, in 1919.

They got out together a few years later and at a double wedding in 1925 Bertha Peskin became Albert's bride and Fanny Primack became the bride of Herman. Bertha and Fanny say they were deserted on the same day about a year ago.

Yesterday, the wives of the twins marched into a court room together and swore out warrants for the arrest of Herman and Albert.

The brothers, according to charges, recently were married together again, Albert to Florence Cohen and Herman to Mathilda Posner.

The one thing they neglected to do together, or at all, the women charged, was to get divorces from their first wives before acquiring their second.

First National Bank of Montgomery, Minn., Robbed by 2 Bandits Early This Morning

COVER PRESIDENT WITH REVOLVER AND STEAL $1300

4 EMPLOYEES FORCED IN VAULT, SAFETY DEVICE PREVENTS CLOSING DOOR

MONTGOMERY IS ABOUT 30 MILES SOUTH OF SHAKOPEE IN LESEUR COUNTY

Montgomery, Minn., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Twelve hours after bankers formed a vigilante organization to halt bank raids, two unmasked bandits took $1,300 from the First National Bank.

More than $6,000 which was to be taken to a Twin Cities depository for safe-keeping was missed by the raiders in their haste to make a getaway.

Officials of the two Montgomery banks yesterday met and formed plans for protecting the institutions from holdups. The major portion of the cash was to be taken to Twin City bank vaults. Within a few hours the bankers felt they would be ready to foil would-be holdup men.

A few minutes after John Sheehy, president of the First National Bank and leader of the vigilantes, came to his bank today, two men entered and held it up.

Only $1,300 was in the cashier's tills. The rest of the funds were hidden in the vault ready for a messenger to take away in an hour. The bandits took the $1,300 and ransacked the vault but failed to find the additional funds.

Montgomery, Minn., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Two unmasked bank raiders held up the First National Bank of $1,300 and escaped shortly after the bank opened today.

No trace of the bandits was found by sheriff's deputies who took up the chase immediately. The car in which the men escaped was parked in an alley behind the bank and no one saw them drive from the city.

John Sheehy, president, J. J. McClintock, cashier, and G. N. Havel, assistant cashier, were in the bank when the holdup took place. A customer had just come in when the bandits entered.

One presented a revolver at Sheehy's head and forced him to his knees. The other covered the two employees and customer. The bandits rapidly swept up all the currency in the cashier's drawers and went to the vault.

Failing to find additional bills in the safe, they forced the four men into the vault and ran hurriedly from the building.

A safety device prevented the bandits from closing the vault and the men released themselves immediately and gave the alarm.

"Cmon and let's get out of here," one of the bandits said when he failed to find any money in the vault. Officials said that the raiders had overlooked a considerable sum of currency in their haste.

The bandits were both under 30 years old, Sheehy said. Both were well dressed and each carried a black .38 caliber automatic revolver.

"I didn't pay any attention to the fellows when they first came in. I was standing to one side and didn't notice what they were doing."

"The first thing I noticed, one of

DICTAPHONE MAY CARRY IMPRESSIONS OF LAST MOMENTS

Irving, Kan., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Possibility that a dictaphone recorded the last minutes of the fatal flight of Ruth Alexander, nationally known woman flier killed Thursday at the start of an attempted cross-country flight from San Diego, Calif., was revealed by her parents here today.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Blaney, of Irving, said they had received a letter written by the young flier shortly before she said she was going to record her impressions of the flight by talking into the dictaphone as she flew.

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Ruth Alexander's plan to make a dictaphone record of her proposed one-stop flight to New York which ended in disaster was never carried out, friends revealed today.

They came over and pointed a revolver at me. He put the hand on my head and forced me onto my knees. Then he made me go over where the others were," Sheehy said.

Montgomery is about 30 miles south of Shakopee in LeSueur county.

Genoa, Neb., Sept. 22.—Two men held up the First National Bank of Genoa today and escaped in a motor car with approximately $7,000 in cash taken from the cage. It was the sixth bank robbery in the state within two weeks.

Shreveport, La., Sept. 22.—The Farmersville, La., State Bank was robbed of $20,000 today by three bandits who entered the back door, held up W. W. Porter, cashier, and Mrs. Edward Everett, wife of the president. The $20,000 was the entire cash content of the bank.

Arkansas City, Kansas, Sept. 22.—A sheriff's posse deployed through thick timber land here today in search of three Mexicans who abandoned their motor car here after robbing a bank at Uncas, Okla.

The sheriff and a party of deputies met the bandits at the Kansas-Oklahoma border after they were advised of the robbery. The Mexicans outdistanced the officers, however, and raced into the Mexican settlement here. They left their car, which had been rented from a local garage, and fled into the tangled undergrowth along the Arkansas river.

"The nature of the back country along the river makes it favorable for a hideout," a deputy sheriff told the United Press.

"We are making every effort to locate the men before dark. Thus far the robbers have shown no disposition to resort to gun fire in their efforts to escape."

Rode 98 Blocks to Find Place in Lake to Jump In Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Frank Seidler, 31, rode street cars for 98 blocks to find a good place to jump into Lake Michigan, found it, jumped, decided the water was too cold to drown in, called for help, was dragged out, examined by police and sent home.

MACHINE KEEPS GIRL ALIVE

CHICAGO LAWYER IS WOUNDED BY TWO GUNMEN

GAIN ENTRANCE TO APARTMENT OF SAMUEL ARONFELD BY A RUSE

START FIRING WHEN INSIDE, ATTORNEY SUSTAINS A FLESH WOUND

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Attorney Samuel Aronfeld, 30, was wounded by two gunmen who gained entrance to his apartment by a ruse today and attempted to assassinate him.

The young attorney, who declared he knew no reason anyone should attack him, sustained a flesh wound.

He was taken to a hospital where it was said his condition was not serious.

Mrs. Aronfeld, who was standing near him when the gunmen began firing, was not hurt.

Aronfeld and Mrs. Aronfeld visited friends last night, arriving home early today. They had been in the house only a few minutes when the door bell rang. Through a speaking tube, Mrs. Aronfeld was told: "It's Western Union."

When Mrs. Aronfeld opened the door, two men stepped quickly inside. They began firing immediately. Not a word was spoken. After firing several shots, the man ran down the stairway and escaped.

Mrs. Aronfeld told police her husband had quarreled recently with a client who demanded the return of a fee, and said someone had called him a few days before and threatened him. The attorney said his practice was confined principally to civil cases and that he had never represented any clients whom he suspected of being criminals or racketeers.

AMERICAN BUSINESS CEASES TO DECLINE

Washington, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—American business has "ceased the marked decline characteristic of a number of earlier months and there are some distinctly encouraging features" for the immediate future, Secretary of Commerce Lamont said today.

"The most encouraging aspects are the growth of export trade as revealed by August statistics and the distinct picking up of retail trade in this country," he said.

GEORGE L. ERNSTROM RECEIVES PROMOTION

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—Announcement was made at the headquarters of the Northern Pacific that George L. Ernststrom, master mechanic of the Rocky to general master mechanic in charge of lines east of Helena and Butte, Mont., with headquarters at St. Paul. He succeeds G. F. Egbers, who was appointed master mechanic of the Idaho division with headquarters at Parkwater, Wash., succeeding J. A. Marsahl, who was transferred to the Rocky mountain division with headquarters at Missoula.

4 MEN BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE OF TOLEDO PLANT

Toledo, O., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Four men were burned to death in a fire that swept the Carl Weber Manufacturing company plant today.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a liquor still, District Fire Chief Richard Lawler said. The bodies were burned so badly that identification was impossible.

DEATH RIDES WITH BRAINERD FAMILY'S VISIT TO MILL CITY

MRS. ALICE BRONDSOEN, 40, WIFE OF CITY LINEMAN, CRUSHED BY CAR

HUSBAND AND TWO CHILDREN RECOVERING; BURIAL AT MINNEAPOLIS TUESDAY

Funeral rites will be conducted on Tuesday in Minneapolis, her former home, for Mrs. Alice Brondson, 40, wife of Frank E. Brondson, lineman for the City Water and Light Department, Brainerd, killed in an automobile accident late Saturday afternoon at Minneapolis.

Mr. Brondson, 224 Third Street, Brainerd, and their two children, Harriet, 12 years old, and Orin, 16 years old, were reported from Minneapolis today as recovering from injuries also sustained when their car, apparently traveling at high speed, struck the curb at Cedar Lake boulevard and Drew avenue and spun off the road. They will return to their home here after the burial.

Mrs. Brondson was found fatally injured by Roy Lindvall and P. Brock of the Mill City police accident squad who righted the machine and took her from the wreckage. She died before an ambulance arrived.

Mr. Brondson, the husband, is reported to have told Minneapolis police an argument with his wife over the route they were to take caused the accident.

"We were driving along Cedar Lake boulevard when we came to a fork in the road," police quoted Brondson as saying. "I wanted to go one way and Mrs. Brondson said we should go the other. She grabbed the wheel and tugged at it and we hit the curb."

A witness to the accident, M. C. Benson, Jr., 3823 Thomas Avenue S., Minneapolis, said the car was traveling from 40 to 60 miles an hour.

According to Benson who was driving on Cedar Lake boulevard, the Brondson car apparently struck a pile of sand just as it was rounding a curve and Mr. Brondson lost control. The machine careened toward the curb, narrowly missing a fire hydrant. As it crashed into the curb, it rolled completely over, according to Minneapolis reports.

Brondson was released Sunday from the General hospital, Minneapolis, where he was taken with lacerations about the head. The children are recovering at the home of their aunt, Mrs. C. C. Cross, 4000 Bear avenue S., Minneapolis.

The accident occurred soon after the Brainerd family arrived in Minneapolis and enroute to visit Mr. Brondson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cross. They had left Brainerd shortly after noon.

Mr. Brondson has been employed for the city water and light department since January of this year. Eighteen years ago he also worked for the same department and during the intervening time was employed by the Northern States Power Co. at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 22.—Four persons were killed in Twin City week-end accidents, three by motors and one by drowning.

They were: Mrs. Alice Brondson, 40, Brainerd, who was killed when the car in which she was riding with her husband and two children overturned into a ditch. Mrs. Carl Pederson, 34, Minneapolis, who died in the general hospital from injuries received in a motor accident.

Neal Callahan 45, Minneapolis, whose chest was crushed when an automobile ran over him.

Victor Johnson, 49, St. Paul, who fell out of a fishing boat at Lake Phalen. He apparently lost his balance and could not swim out of the water when he fell into it with his heavy clothing.

Chain Store Executives Assemble for Convention

Chain stores executives from all parts of the United States will assemble in Chicago September 28 for the third annual convention of the National Chain Store Association. The sessions, which will be held at the Palmer House, will last three days, September 29 and 30 and October 1.

MOTLEY, PILLAGER OFFICES RAIDED, 2 BREAKINS HERE

BREAK WINDOWS AND DAMAGE OFFICE EQUIPMENT; TOTAL LOOT NETS ROBBERS $7

AUTHORITIES IN TWO COUNTIES AND RAILWAY OFFICERS UNITE IN MANHUNT

Police, county authorities and railway officers in Crow Wing and Cass counties hunted today burglars who ransacked two railway stations and two oil stations but only gained $7 in their depredations.

In a week-end of crime in Brainerd and near vicinity thieves broke into the following places, breaking windows and generally leaving files and office information scattered about:

The Northern Pacific railway station at Motley, where windows were broken, the office safe wrecked and office blanks and reports thrown about.

The Northern Pacific railway station at Pillager, where similar damage was done and furniture broken.

The Sinclair oil station at Oak and 13th Streets, Brainerd, where the small office safe was broken into and $7 in currency taken.

The Northwestern oil station, at the corner of Sixth and Oak Streets, where the thieves opened all drawers in the desk, throwing the contents on the floor.

Because of instruction of officials at the various stations to keep as little money as possible during non-working hours, the thieves' raids netted little gain.

In their disappointment over lack of loot they damaged furniture and caused much confusion in office records. In all cases the burglars entered after breaking windows. They are believed to have started at Motley and "went the route" through to Brainerd. The burglaries all occurred early on Sunday.

Chief of Police Thomas Templeton expressed the belief today that they were perpetrated by men returning from harvest fields.

Carl Jacobson, special N. P. officer, Brainerd, started the investigation of the robberies of the N. P. stations yesterday morning.

Police here reported also the theft of a Ford 1929 model, owned by Geo. Ericson, Jr., from in front of his home at 504 North 4th Street, also the recovery of the car owned by Art Harthum, salesman, 307 North 8th Street, stolen from Front Street September 13.

The Ericson car which bore the license number Minn. B59-99, was stolen early Sunday.

The Harthum car was found by boys on a sideroad near the Rosko Airport.

MENDELL, REINHART AFTER ENDURANCE MARK IN FLYING

SEEK TO LAND CHAMPIONSHIP FOR THE PACIFIC COAST AREA

DISABLED MOTOR IN REFUELING SHIP PREVENTS SECOND CONTACT OF FLIGHT

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—The first attempt of Loren Mendell and R. B. Reinhart to regain the world endurance air record ended in failure early today when a disabled motor in the refueling ship prevented the second contact of the flight.

The two aviators and R. V. Howard, radio operator, took off from Grand Central airport at 3:15 P. M. yesterday. Mendell and Reinhart landed at 12:55 A. M. because of gasoline shortage. They said they would take off again later in the day.

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Loren W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart, former holders of the airplane endurance record, were started today on an attempt to return the championship to the Pacific coast.

Carrying R. V. Howard, radio operator, the endurance fliers took off from Grand Central airport at Glendale Sunday afternoon. The record of 647 hours, 28 minutes, 30 seconds is held by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine of St. Louis.

ADOPT PROPOSAL TO INCREASE JUDGES OF WORLD COURT

Geneva, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—A proposal increasing the judges of the world court from 11 to 15 was adopted by the judicial commission of the League of Nations today. The assembly probably will elect new judges, including Frank B. Kellogg of the United States, for a nine-year term, on Wednesday or Thursday, at a plenary session. The judicial commission also started debate today on harmonization of the Briand-Kellogg anti-war treaty with the league covenant, studying a project adopted by the last council of the league.

One presented a revolver at Sheehy's head and forced him to his knees. The other covered the two employees and customer. The bandits rapidly swept up all the currency in the cashier's drawers and went to the vault.

Failing to find additional bills in the safe, they forced the four men into the vault and ran hurriedly from the building.

A safety device prevented the bandits from closing the vault and the men released themselves immediately and gave the alarm.

"Cmon and let's get out of here," one of the bandits said when he failed to find any money in the vault. Officials said that the raiders had overlooked a considerable sum of currency in their haste.

The bandits were both under 30 years old, Sheehy said. Both were well dressed and each carried a black .38 caliber automatic revolver.

"I didn't pay any attention to the fellows when they first came in. I was standing to one side and didn't notice what they were doing."

"The first thing I noticed, one of

DICTAPHONE MAY CARRY IMPRESSIONS OF LAST MOMENTS

Irving, Kan., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Possibility that a dictaphone recorded the last minutes of the fatal flight of Ruth Alexander, nationally known woman flier killed Thursday at the start of an attempted cross-country flight from San Diego, Calif., was revealed by her parents here today.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Blaney, of Irving, said they had received a letter written by the young flier shortly before she was to start the trip, in which she said she was going to record her impressions of the flight by talking into the dictaphone as she flew.

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Ruth Alexander's plan to make a dictaphone record of her proposed one-stop flight to New York which ended in disaster was never carried out, friends revealed today.

They came over and pointed a revolver at me. He put me on my knees. Then he made me go over where the others were," Sheehy said.

Montgomery is about 30 miles south of Shakopee in Lesueur county.

Genoa, Neb., Sept. 22.—Two men held up the First National Bank of Genoa today and escaped in a motor car with approximately $7,000 in cash taken from the cage. It was the sixth bank robbery in the state within two weeks.

Shreveport, La., Sept. 22.—The Farmersville, La., State Bank was robbed of $20,000 today by three bandits who entered the back door, held up W. W. Porter, cashier, and Mrs. Edward Everett, wife of the president. The $20,000 was the entire cash content of the bank.

Arkansas City, Kansas, Sept. 22.—A sheriff's posse deployed through thick timber land here today in search of three Mexicans who abandoned their motor car here after robbing a bank at Uncas, Okla.

The sheriff and a party of deputies met the bandits at the Kansas-Oklahoma border after they were advised of the robbery. The Mexicans outdistanced the officers, however, and raced into the Mexican settlement here. They left their car, which had been rented from a local garage, and fled into the tangled undergrowth along the Arkansas river.

"The nature of the back country along the river makes it favorable for a hideout," a deputy sheriff told the United Press.

"We are making every effort to locate the men before dark. Thus far the robbers have shown no disposition to resort to gun fire in their efforts to escape."

Rode 98 Blocks to Find Place in Lake to Jump In Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Frank Seidler, 31, rode street cars for 98 blocks to find a good place to jump into Lake Michigan, found it, jumped, decided the water was too cold to drown in, called for help, was dragged out, examined by police and sent home.

CHICAGO LAWYER IS WOUNDED BY TWO GUNMEN

GAIN ENTRANCE TO APARTMENT OF SAMUEL ARONFELD BY A RUSE

START FIRING WHEN INSIDE, ATTORNEY SUSTAINS A FLESH WOUND

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Attorney Samuel Aronfeld, 30, was wounded by two gunmen who gained entrance to his apartment by a ruse today and attempted to assassinate him.

The young attorney, who declared he knew no reason anyone should attack him, sustained a flesh wound.

He was taken to a hospital where it was said his condition was not serious. Mrs. Aronfeld, who was standing near him when the gunmen began firing, was not hurt.

Aronfeld and Mrs. Aronfeld visited friends last night, arriving home early today. They had been in the house only a few minutes when the door bell rang. Through a speaking tube, Mrs. Aronfeld was told: "It's Western Union."

When Mrs. Aronfeld opened the door, two men stepped quickly inside. They began firing immediately. Not a word was spoken. After firing several shots, the man ran down the stairway and escaped.

Mrs. Aronfeld told police her husband had quarreled recently with a client who demanded the return of a fee, and said someone had called him a few days before and threatened him.

The attorney said his practice was confined principally to civil cases and that he had never represented any clients whom he suspected of being criminals or racketeers.

AMERICAN BUSINESS CEASES TO DECLINE

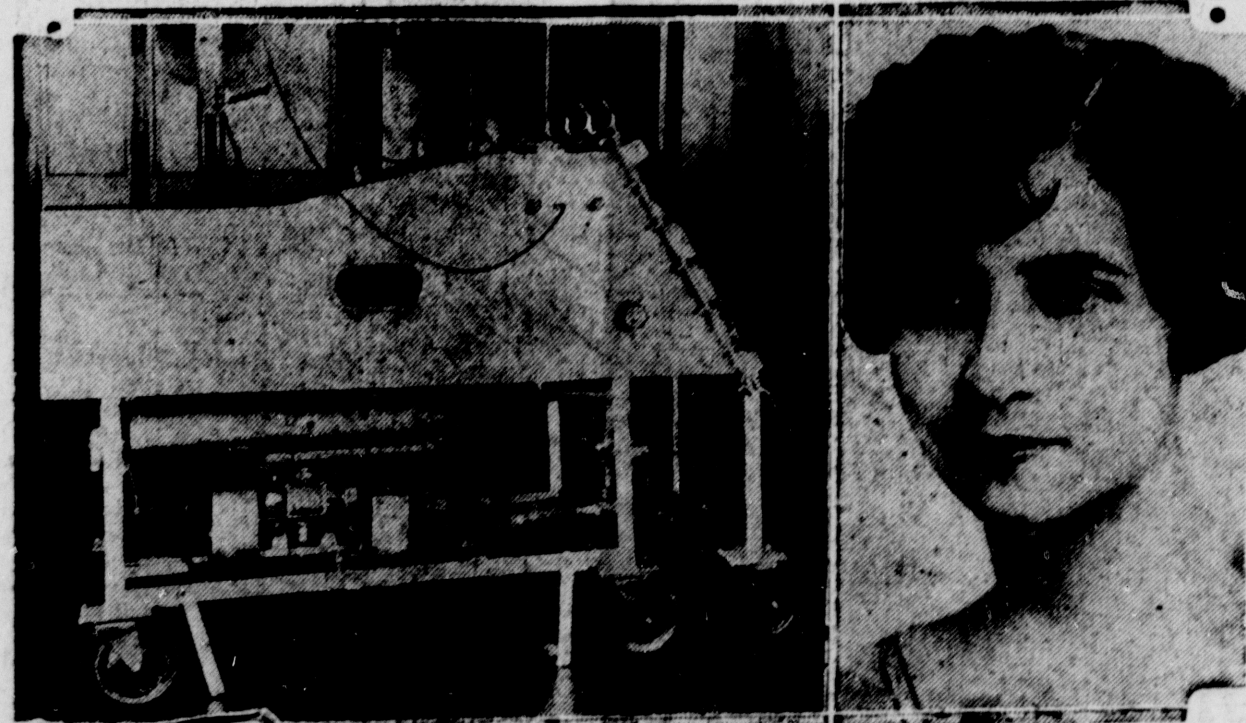

Washington, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—American business has "ceased the marked decline characteristic of a number of earlier months and there are some distinctly encouraging features" for the immediate future, Secretary of Commerce Lamont said today.

"The most encouraging aspects are the growth of export trade as revealed by August statistics and the distinct picking up of retail trade in this country," he said.

GEORGE L. ERNSTROM RECEIVES PROMOTION

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—Announcement was made at the headquarters of the Northern Pacific that George L. Ernststrom, master mechanic of the Rocky to general master mechanic in charge of lines east of Helena and Butte, Mont., with headquarters at St. Paul. He succeeds G. F. Egbers, who was appointed master mechanic of the Idaho division with headquarters at Parkwater, Wash., succeeding J. A. Marsahl, who was transferred to the Rocky mountain division with headquarters at Missoula.

MACHINE KEEPS GIRL ALIVE

Hour after hour with normal rhythm the paralyzed lungs of Miss Frances McCann (right), 23-year-old student nurse, are filled with vital air and exhausted of dead air by means of the Drinker respirator (left) at St. Luke's hospital in Chicago. The girl was placed in the respirator a week ago when congestion resulting from infantile paralysis reached her lungs. Only her head protrudes from the life-sustaining cabinet, which, with alternating vacuum and pressure, forces her to breathe. Miss McCann's home is at Altoona, Ill.

MOTLEY, PILLAGER OFFICES RAIDED, 2 BREAKINS HERE

BREAK WINDOWS AND DAMAGE OFFICE EQUIPMENT; TOTAL LOOT NETS ROBBERS $7

AUTHORITIES IN TWO COUNTIES AND RAILWAY OFFICERS UNITE IN MANHUNT

Police, county authorities and railway officers in Crow Wing and Cass counties hunted today burglars who ransacked two railway stations and two oil stations but only gained $7 in their depredations.

In a week-end of crime in Brainerd and near vicinity thieves broke into the following places, breaking windows and generally leaving files and office information scattered about:

The Northern Pacific railway station at Motley, where windows were broken, the office safe wrecked and office blanks and reports thrown about.

The Northern Pacific railway station at Pillager, where similar damage was done and furniture broken.

The Sinclair oil station at Oak and 13th Streets, Brainerd, where the small office safe was broken into and $7 in currency taken.

The Northwestern oil station, at the corner of Sixth and Oak Streets, where the thieves opened all drawers in the desk, throwing the contents on the floor.

Because of instruction of officials at the various stations to keep as little money as possible during non-working hours, the thieves' raids netted little gain.

In their disappointment over lack of loot they damaged furniture and caused much confusion in office records.

In all cases the burglars entered after breaking windows. They are believed to have started at Motley and "went the route" through to Brainerd. The burglaries all occurred early on Sunday.

Chief of Police Thomas Templeton expressed the belief today that they were perpetrated by men returning from harvest fields.

Carl Jacobson, special N. P. officer, Brainerd, started the investigation of the robberies of the N. P. stations yesterday morning.

Police here reported also the theft of a Ford 1929 model, owned by Geo. Ericson, Jr., from in front of his home at 504 North 4th Street, also the recovery of the car owned by Art Harthum, salesman, 307 North 8th Street, stolen from Front Street September 13.

The Ericson car which bore the license number Minn. B59-99, was stolen early Sunday.

The Harthum car was found by boys on a sidewalk near the Rosko Airport.

MENDELL, REINHART AFTER ENDURANCE MARK IN FLYING

SEEK TO LAND CHAMPIONSHIP FOR THE PACIFIC COAST AREA

DISABLED MOTOR IN REFUELING SHIP PREVENTS SECOND CONTACT OF FLIGHT

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—The first attempt of Loren Mendell and R. B. Reinhart to regain the world endurance air record ended in failure early today when a disabled motor in the refueling ship prevented the second contact of the flight.

The two aviators and R. V. Howard, radio operator, took off from Grand Central airport at 3:15 P. M. yesterday. Mendell and Reinhart landed at 12:55 A. M. because of gasoline shortage. They said they would take off again later in the day.

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Loren W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart, former holders of the airplane endurance record, were started today on an attempt to return the championship to the Pacific coast.

Carrying R. V. Howard, radio operator, the endurance fliers took off from Grand Central airport at Glendale Sunday afternoon. The record of 647 hours, 28 minutes, 30 seconds is held by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine of St. Louis.

ADOPT PROPOSAL TO INCREASE JUDGES OF WORLD COURT

Geneva, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—A proposal increasing the judges of the world court from 11 to 15 was adopted by the judicial commission of the League of Nations today. The assembly probably will elect new judges, including Frank B. Kellogg of the United States, for a nine-year term, on Wednesday or Thursday, at a plenary session.

The judicial commission also started debate today on harmonization of the Briand-Kellogg anti-war treaty with the league covenant, studying a project adopted by the last council of the league.

4 MEN BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE OF TOLEDO PLANT

Toledo, O., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Four men were burned to death in a fire that swept the Carl Weber Manufacturing company plant today.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a liquor still, District Fire Chief Richard Lawler said. The bodies were burned so badly that identification was impossible.

DEATH RIDES WITH BRAINERD FAMILY'S VISIT TO MILL CITY

MRS. ALICE BRONDSOEN, 40, WIFE OF CITY LINEMAN, CRUSHED BY CAR

HUSBAND AND TWO CHILDREN RECOVERING; BURIAL AT MINNEAPOLIS TUESDAY

Funeral rites will be conducted on Tuesday in Minneapolis, her former home, for Mrs. Alice Brondsen, 40, wife of Frank E. Brondsen, lineman for the City Water and Light Department, Brainerd, killed in an automobile accident late Saturday afternoon at Minneapolis.

Mr. Brondsen, 224 Third Street, Brainerd, and their two children, Harriet, 12 years old, and Orin, 16 years old, were reported from Minneapolis today as recovering from injuries also sustained when their car, apparently traveling at high speed, struck the curb at Cedar Lake boulevard and Drew avenue and spun off the road. They will return to their home here after the burial.

Mrs. Brondsen was found fatally injured by Roy Lindvall and P. Brock of the Mill City police accident squad who righted the machine and took her from the wreckage. She died before an ambulance arrived.

Mr. Brondsen, the husband, is reported to have told Minneapolis police an argument with his wife over the route they were to take caused the accident.

"We were driving along Cedar Lake boulevard when we came to a fork in the road," police quoted Brondsen as saying. "I wanted to go one way and Mrs. Brondsen said we should go the other. She grabbed the wheel and tugged at it and we hit the curb."

A witness to the accident, M. C. Benson, Jr., 3823 Thomas Avenue S., Minneapolis, said the car was traveling from 40 to 60 miles an hour.

According to Benson who was driving on Cedar Lake boulevard, the Brondsen car apparently struck a pile of sand just as it was rounding a curve and Mr. Brondsen lost control. The machine careened toward the curb, narrowly missing a fire hydrant. As it crashed into the curb, it rolled completely over, according to Minneapolis reports.

Brondsen was released Sunday from the General hospital, Minneapolis, where he was taken with lacerations about the head. The children are recovering at the home of their aunt, Mrs. C. C. Cross, 4000 Bear avenue S., Minneapolis.

The accident occurred soon after the Brainerd family arrived in Minneapolis and enroute to visit Mr. Brondsen's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cross. They had left Brainerd shortly after noon.

Mr. Brondsen has been employed for the city water and light department since January of this year. Eighteen years ago he also worked for the same department and during the intervening time was employed by the Northern States Power Co. at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 22.—Four persons were killed in Twin City week-end accidents, three by motors and one by drowning.

They were: Mrs. Alice Brondsen, 40, Brainerd, who was killed when the car in which she was riding with her husband and two children overturned into a ditch.

Mrs. Carl Pederson, 34, Minneapolis, who died in the general hospital from injuries received in a motor accident.

Neal Callahan 45, Minneapolis, whose chest was crushed when an automobile ran over him.

Victor Johnson, 49, St. Paul, who fell out of a fishing boat at Lake Phalen. He apparently lost his balance and could not swim out of the water when he fell into it with his heavy clothing.

COSTE, BELLONTE LEAVE ST. PAUL FOR OMAHA, DENVER

ATTENDED HIGH MASS SUNDAY, BUT MADE NO PUBLIC APPEARANCES

MINNEAPOLIS WELCOMED THE FLIERS FRIDAY, ST. PAUL HAD HONOR SATURDAY

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 22.—(UP)—After a quiet week-end, Captain Dieudonne Coste and Lieutenant Maurice Bellonte took off today for Omaha and other week full of activities.

The plane left the municipal airport for Omaha at 8:35 A. M.

Except for attendance of high mass yesterday at the French Catholic church, the French aviators who flew from Paris to New York in their red plane Question Mark made no public appearances. They slept late. In the afternoon they went to the municipal airport to supervise preparations for today's trip. The chatted with Twin City aviators. They went hunting.

Minneapolis had its turn Friday at welcoming the fliers while St. Paul claimed their attentions Saturday. Sunday was the fliers' own. From Omaha, where they will stop for lunch, the airmen will go to Denver.

Among the fliers who greeted Coste and Bellonte was Joe Crosson of Fairbanks, Alaska, who with his wife is enroute to North Dakota for a visit to the family of Carl Ben Eielson, who was lost while flying in the north. Crosson, who sighted Eielson's wrecked plane, said the dead aviator was a "regular fellow" and that he wanted to tell his family how much Alaska missed him after his death.

The two French fliers visited Lamphrey's Pass, the hunting preserve between Clear Lake and Forest Lake of Linton J. Shields, president of the National Battery Company. Coste brought down 19 birds while Bellonte shot seven ducks as his share.

After studying maps of the route to Omaha and Denver, the fliers retired early so that they could be up early. Today's trip was the longest hop of their American tour.

OH THESE WOMEN!

It's little things like these that make for great irritations.

She hadn't had money very long, and it didn't burn her fingers, but it seemed to inflate her head. She bought herself many expensive, and she held her head at a rather painful angle when she wound her choice furs about her comely person. She got so stiff in the neck and back when she got out of her foreign car that she all but cracked her nose on the pavement. If she hadn't seen to it that she had plenty of attendants that is just what would have happened.

Whenever she met women of lesser financial rating, she smiled tolerantly if at all. Sometimes she looked straight through them, no matter how long she had known them and their home folks. She was being elegant, and it takes a great deal of concentration for such a person to make a good job of it.

And HOW she treated clerks! College graduates, some of them, and awfully nice girls. But the way she snapped her orders was terrific. Did they feel hurt? Not at all. They knew they were better than she was so they were only amused. Except, of course, on very hot days when they were pretty tired and irritation was easy.

She had a well trained chauffeur who had a family and needed a job. His courtesy was unflinching. But if he was five minutes late, she talked to him as if he had stolen her jewels and was trying to reach the river and escape. He listened, but you can't blame him if he was unmoved.

If the grocer tried to explain something to her about the price of something, or why he didn't have it, she simply repeated her order and looked at him—HARD. That meant he better get it—whatever it was.

Such a woman!

They did put her on welfare committees. She gave generously for the privilege of attending meetings at the Astorblits home, and the Astorblits could stand it, particularly as they were usually away at the time of the meetings, and people like Mrs. Rich did the work and gave the money. The new rich considered it a bargain because they could say "On Tuesday I had tea at Mrs. Astorblits."

Nobody ever told the poor woman that you can invariably tell when a woman is NOT a lady by the way she treats less fortunate people. But somebody should.

STUNTER DIES IN TRY TO EMULATE BRODIE

New York, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Norman J. Terry, 24, professional stunter of Kittanning, Pa., tried to emulate Steve Brodie and died in the attempt.

Terry selected the new Hudson river bridge instead of the Brooklyn bridge for his dive. He leaped 215 feet to the water and was killed.

The fatal dive was recorded by a movie camera and by a newspaper photographer.

After the accident detectives arrested James Murray of St. George, I. I. who admitted he was Terry's trainer but denied that he was his manager. Murray was to be arraigned today on a technical charge of homicide.

LOSES HIS HAND IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Earl Schneider, Minneapolis, was shot through the hand when he drew a gun toward him while hunting ducks at Ten Mile lake near here. He was brought to the hospital here where his hand was amputated today.

Here and There Around the Northwest

Minneapolis, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Fred Maurer, former Minneapolis alderman, was free today after serving a year and a half of a two year's sentence for bribe-taking. Maurer was the first of the aldermen to confess his guilt in the councilmanic graft expose. Ten days were cut from his term yesterday by the state parole board because of good behavior. He was released and went to his home at Medicine Lake.

St. Paul, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Possibility of racketeering in the meat trade was seen by police today after two butcher shops revealed stinkbombs during the week. Both bombs were tossed into markets owned by Joseph Bigelow.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Peter Heydt, 82, Polk county pioneer, will be buried Monday after services in St. Paul's Lutheran church. He came to Crookston in 1873 with a railroad surveying crew and remained William Heydt, Minneapolis, and Herman Heydt, Fargo, N. D., are two sons.

Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 20.—(UP)—George M. Comstock, Moorhead, will leave tomorrow for St. Paul to attend the first meeting of the commission appointed by the U. S. district court to appraise damages to flooded areas on the American shore of Lake of the Woods. Other commissioners are A. R. Kitts, Fergus Falls, and Lee R. Boyd, Crookston.

INJURED BY HIT AND RUN DRIVER

CHARLES PELVIK, ST. CLOUD, SOUGHT TO BORROW GASOLINE

Fergus Falls, Minn., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Charles Pelvik, St. Cloud, was seriously injured today when struck by a hit and run driver from whom he wanted to borrow gasoline.

Pelvik and his 15-year-old son were driving here from Breckenridge when their gasoline was exhausted. Pelvik attempted to hail the passing car on the highway near Foxhome but the motorist hit him and hurried away. Pelvik's son walked to Foxhome, informed officials his father had been killed and returned to find his father still living. Pelvik suffered a fractured skull, a broken arm and fractured leg.

Ranger Devillier, alleged driver of the automobile, was arrested shortly before noon today and was being questioned by officials.

REPLICA OF ANCIENT VIKING SHIP IS NOW AT ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The 30-foot Roald Amundsen was tied up at the Minnesota Boat club dock today at the end of a trip that took it across the Atlantic and up the Mississippi river.

The replica of the ancient Viking ship was the first trans-Atlantic vessel ever to visit the Twin Cities. When the boat arrived yesterday afternoon, 15,000 persons welcomed Captain Gerhard Folger and his crew of Norwegian sailors.

As the motor boat guided the ship into the dock from the river channel, it became stuck on a sand bar but after some maneuvering Captain Folger was able to free the vessel. The Roald Amundsen came here from Red Wing where it has been for the past few days.

WHEAT MOVES IN NARROW RANGE IN CHICAGO GRAIN PIT

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(UP)—With the Chicago Board of Trade ready to investigate charges that Russia has sold millions of bushels of wheat short to depress prices, all deliveries of the grain moved in a narrow range today and closed ¼ to ½ cents lower.

Apparently the Russian scare had little effect on prices as only fractional gains and losses were recorded all day in the pit.

May wheat in touching 96½ hit a new low for the season and March a low of 87½ also touched bottom.

The closing prices: Sept. 80½ cents off ¼; December 84½, off ¼; March 88, off ¼, and May 91½, off ¼.

Music of the Farm

by A. J. Dunlap

They talk about the music of the far off
host of stars,
Of songs the wandering river sings across
its sandy bars.
I've heard the echo in the hills of breezes
singing there,
And heard the prima donna sing with roses
in her hair.
But when I want a harmony that's full of homely charm,
Then I recall the music of the dear old
peaceful farm—
The mellow songs of meadow larks that rose
to meet the day,
Co-mingled with the blatant bawl of cattle
far away;
The distant neighing of a horse and barking
of a dog,
All tangled with the cry of sheep and squeal
of hungry hog.
Then over all I hear a voice half full of wild alarm
That pierces like a trumpet blare the quiet
of the farm;
And everywhere it bears the news through orchard, field and glade—
Behind the salt barrel in the bin, the speckled hen has laid.

Senator Schall's Wife is Treated for Exhaustion

Washington, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Mrs. Thomas D. Schall, wife of the senator from Minnesota, was being treated for exhaustion at Sibley hospital today after having collapsed from the strain of an all-night vigil at the bedside of her injured son, Thomas D. Jr.

Young Schall, junior classman at the U. S. Naval academy, was still in a serious condition as a result of an automobile accident near Riverdale, Md., Saturday night. He suffered a broken arm and leg and internal injuries when his car collided with a truck. Miss Alice Kress of Baltimore, his companion, is also in the hospital with a fractured skull.

Medieval Armor

The complete suits of armor worn by knights during the Middle Ages ranged in weight from 45 to 100 pounds. Chain mail was lighter. Henry VIII of England wore a suit of armor weighing 94 pounds.

HILLS BROS COFFEE owes

its rare flavor to the principle you follow in making mayonnaise

You add the oil a little at a time to prevent the mayonnaise from separating. Hills Bros. roast their coffee a few pounds at a time to prevent variation in flavor. That's why this patented, continuous process is called Controlled Roasting. No bulk-roasting process can produce such a rich, delicious flavor.

Music of the Farm

by A. J. Dunlap

They talk about the music of the far off
host of stars
Of songs the winding river sings across
its sandy bars
I've heard the echo in the hills of breezes
singing there,
And heard the prima donna sing with roses
in her hair;
But when I want a harmony that's full of homely charm,
Then I recall the music of the dear old
peaceful farm—
The mellow songs of meadow larks that rose
to meet the day,
Co-mingled with the blatant bawl of cattle
far away;
The distant neighing of a horse and barking
of a dog,
All tangled with the cry of sheep and squeal
of hungry hog,
Then over all I hear a voice half full of wild alarm
That pierces like a trumpet blare the quiet
of the farm;
And everywhere it bears the news through orchard, field and glade—
Behind the salt barrel in the bin, the speckled hen has laid.

Senator Schall's Wife is Treated for Exhaustion

Washington, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Young Schall, junior classmate at Thomas D. Schall, wife of the senator from Minnesota, was being treated for exhaustion at Sibley hospital today after having collapsed from the strain of an all-night vigil at the bedside of her injured son, Thomas D., Jr.

Young Schall, junior classmate at the U. S. Naval academy, was still in a serious condition as a result of an automobile accident near Riverdale, Md., Saturday night. He suffered a broken arm and leg and internal injuries when his car collided with a truck. Miss Alice Kress of Baltimore, his companion, is also in the hospital with a fractured skull.

Medieval Armor

The complete suits of armor worn by knights during the Middle Ages ranged in weight from 45 to 100 pounds. Chain mail was lighter. Henry VIII of England wore a suit of armor weighing 94 pounds.

HILLS BROS COFFEE owes

its rare flavor to the principle you follow in making mayonnaise

You add the oil a little at a time to prevent the mayonnaise from separating. Hills Bros. roast their coffee a few pounds at a time to prevent variation in flavor. That's why this patented, continuous process is called Controlled Roasting. No bulk-roasting process can produce such a rich, delicious flavor.

How to Gain Thorough Knowledge of Your Country

AN automobile trip is the best way to gain a thorough knowledge of your country. And it can be made very conveniently by camping at places and also at times enjoying the facilities of tourist camps.

Rev. Alexander G. Patterson and members of his family have recently returned from a vacation spent in a camping trip through the East. Accompanying the minister were Mrs. Patterson, Elizabeth and Robert Patterson. They traveled 5,232 miles, as measured by their trusty speedometer. Their six weeks tour included 19 states and the District of Columbia, and two provinces of Canada.

In all the trip there wasn't an hour but they were all able to go. They pitched their tent most of the nights and cooked most of their meals. Paved highways covered most of their route.

And such a trip! It embraced more territory than covered by any explorer in days of old. It embraced Madison, Joliet, Winona Lake, Fort Wayne, Toledo, Detroit, across the Ambassadors Bridge, through Canada to Niagara Falls, Rochester, Syracuse, Schenectady, Troy, Albany, across the famous Mohawk Trail to Williamstown, North Adams, Greenfield through Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine as far north as Caribou, across into New Brunswick in Woodstock, down the Maine coast, stopping at Old Orchard, Portland, Boston and its historic surroundings, including Cambridge, Lexington, Concord and Henry Ford's famous Wayside Inn with the Little Red School House where Mary's little lamb followed her to school, Providence, through Connecticut, New York City, Princeton, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, across the Delaware at Pennsville by ferry, New Castle, Baltimore, Washington, Mount Vernon, Gettysburg, across the mountains in Pennsylvania to Pittsburgh, Rochester, Chester, West Virginia, New Castle, Youngstown, Wooster College (the minister's alma mater), Chicago, Milwaukee, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire.

They viewed the Berkshire Hills, the Green Mountains and the White Mountains and enjoyed surf bathing in Old Orchard and Atlantic City.

Economic and other conditions were studied by the minister. These industries included the great potato fields in Maine, the peach orchards in New Jersey and Delaware, orchards and vineyards in New York, maple sugar camps in Vermont and New Hampshire, etc.

In their visits to educational institutions they inspected some of the most notable in America. They included the University of Wisconsin, University of Maine, Brown University, Williams College, Yale, Harvard, Princeton (the minister's alma mater), Massachusetts Tech, Pennsylvania University and Wooster College. While looking at the Yale bowl, the car got away and strayed down a hill, being checked up short when it ran into a telephone pole.

Unusual places visited were the foreign sections in New York City and Boston. In crossing the line from Woodstock to the United States, the custom officers demanded proof that they were American citizens. Not being prepared for this, they fell back on a fishing license that saved the day. The party weathered a bad storm in New York. Through the kindness of a friend they got everywhere in the Congressional library.

They visited Mrs. Patterson's relations in Maine and his old home near Mt. Jackson, Pa., where he preached a sermon in the old Westfield church which he attended as a boy.

It was a great experience to drive through the traffic in New York and through the Holland tunnel, under a great river at the rate of 40 miles an hour. They were much impressed by Gettysburg and its battlefield. Paved roads were found nearly all the way. There was great variety of scenery, much of it wonderfully beautiful.

"One cannot stand at the cradle of liberty in Concord and Lexington and Plymouth Rock without being impressed with the price paid by our forefathers for our great nation. When we go over the battlefield at Gettysburg we have a new valuation of its new birth," said Rev. Patterson.

"Tourist camps are nearly everywhere, but not so well equipped in the east. We think Brainerd has the best of all," said Rev. Patterson.

But in spite of all the wonderful scenes and experiences, the Pattersons burst out singing "Home, Sweet Home," when the familiar city limits of Brainerd came into view.

The trip was one of great educational value and the experiences gained will provide material for sermons for many weeks to come. The automobile proved a trusty means of conveyance and enabled them to travel quickly and well. Their schedule was an elastic one. There was no worry about stopovers. In short it seems the ideal way for a family to keep together and to make a tour that is really worth while.

THE University of Illinois is trying the "no captain" idea this football season but the plan is not expected to be a permanent one. With no outstanding potential leader available it was decided to leave the captaincy selections to Coach Bop Zuppke's judgment. He will name a leader for each game. This is one step better than past conditions in Minnesota where the Gophers had no captain of any kind the past two years.

ONCE a traveling salesman, always a traveling salesman. When Glenn W. Poyzer of Rochester, N. Y., received an official invitation to visit a Mexican town, he shook hands with everybody, organized a flying club and then sold the members a plane.

SIMILARITY of Minnesota's climate, terrain and road problems as well as pioneer work in road construction methods have brought three groups of engineers of the Soviet government to the state to study construction methods.

AN increase of more than $2,000,000 in savings deposits since September 10, 1929, was reported by two leading banking institutions of Minneapolis.

THERE have now been 41 races for the America's cup, of which the United States have won 38 and the British 3.

THIS September has been a very fine month and the frost line has not been touched.

BLIND 30 YEARS;
REGAINS SIGHT

Chicago Man Marvels at Amazing World of Today.

Chicago.—A young man on his honeymoon was stricken with total blindness—thirty years ago.

One day recently, his vision suddenly restored, he sat bewildered by the side of the woman who for three decades had been his guide, his companion and his wife, and—until he closed his eyes again—she seemed unreal.

Three days before the man—J. F. Fish, 2423 North Sawyer avenue—sensed the beginning of the miracle that was coming to him.

He was in his own living room. His wife was there. The feeling he had as if a black curtain before his eyes became black at the lower edge and a misty gray border grew.

For some time he considered this without saying anything. Probably it was just an illusion, he thought. But the gray border widened. It became translucent—and then—transparent. He exclaimed:

"My dear, I believe—I really believe that I am beginning to see!" She started up—then resumed her seat. Her pulse beat fast. But his was beating faster. He continued:

"There are vague shapes. The outline of a door—over there—a chair—is that your hand on the back of the chair?"

Swiftly the whole of the old black curtain seemed to be drawn aside, and the eyes behind the curtain—eyes which last had looked upon the world in the year 1900—saw the amazing world of today.

Mr. Fish is the head and founder of the Northwestern Business college.

When students and teachers come to his office now he closes his eyes "in order to recognize them more readily"—because his ears are better trained than his eyes.

The original loss of his vision was the result of a blow on the head. The restoration was time's slow healing of that injury.

Atlanta Children Fall
Far Without Injury

Atlanta, Ga.—Atlanta's parents hope the city's epidemic of long-distance noninjury falling records is ended.

Two-year-old James Chastain, Jr., started the competition with a 25-foot fall from the second-story window of his home. The next day James was a little sore in one hip but he was seen looking out of the same window from which he flopped the day before.

That record stood one day. Then Ruth Jensen, four, fell 34 feet out of an upstairs window into a rose bush which must have withdrawn its thorns, for she wasn't even scratched.

George Williams, adult titleholder, has completely recovered from a five-story fall down an elevator shaft which left him whole but somewhat bruised.

Later Mrs. Cora Hunter fell eight inches down one doorstep and fractured a wrist.

Woman Asks to Talk to
Board as to Husband

Washington, N. C.—After an elderly woman demanded to discuss the issue in question with Beaufort county commissioners "one at a time," it was decided to defer action until August in the matter of continuing work of the county home demonstration agent.

Fifty women appeared before the board to urge retention of the agent's services.

The elderly woman took the floor. "Mr. Chairman," she said, "I ain't much for talking to a big bunch of men like this, but I sure can tell it to 'em one at a time. If you all are thinking of doing away with the home demonstration agent, I'd like to have the opportunity of seeing each member of the board by himself and talking to him like I been used to talking to my husband."

The commissioners lost no time in deferring action.

Prisoner Walks Out of
Court as Officers Argue

Toronto, Ont.—Magistrate Jones and Inspector Guthrie differed in their interpretations of the laws regarding the legality of bright automobile headlights during Mrs. M. V. Molson's appearance in police court on a charge of driving with lights that were too bright. While they were arguing, Mrs. Molson walked out of the court-room. The argument subsided when it was discovered that the defendant was gone.

"She disappeared during the storm," the magistrate commented as he withdrew the charge against her.

Hair Cut by Lightning,
He Feels "Pretty Good"

Excelsior Springs, Mo.—Fred Skelton, farmer, believes in plenty of fresh air and sleeps with his head near an open window. One night lightning shot through the screen and struck his pillow, tore it to fragments and took off all of his hair. After being unconscious for about an hour, the farmer came to and said he felt "pretty good."

Quebec Dog Carts to Go

Quebec.—One of this province's most picturesque sights, the presence of small dog carts along the highways, has been condemned in the interests of the machine age.

SOME MAKE A THOUSAND

A motorist, calling on an Aberdeen friend who had bought his first car, was surprised to find him emptying the contents of an oil can into his petrol tank.

"What on earth are you doing?" the visitor asked.

"Why," replied the other, "d'ye ken this car will run only 30 miles on a gallon of petrol, while she'll do about 700 on a gallon of oil?"—Evening Post (Wellington, N. Z.).

Lefty Assumptions

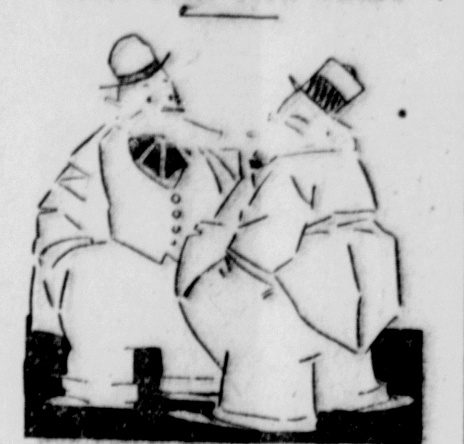

"What are you going to do with your boy Josh?"

"I'm going to make an aviator of him," answered Farmer Corntassel.

"Can he qualify?"

"I think so. He has been so busy thinkin' he's far and away above the rest of us, I'm goin' to see to it he gets a chance to make good."

BEST FOR THE ARMY

"The army should take only married men."

"Why?"

"Because they're trained to take orders, of course."

Beneficent Influence

Baseball into debate is lent to bring a peaceful charm. It meets the need for argument and does no real harm.

Blessings of Poverty

Kind Lady—My poor man, how did you ever come to such a condition?

Wenry Bill—Ma'am, I'm a victim of over-education. When I was a kid I read so much about the blessing of poverty that I jes' natchally couldn't work.—The Pathfinder.

The Real Offense

Mr. Fussbody—I saw your husband wearing my lavender silk socks.

The Landress—That's too bad. He mustn't look 'em for his'n.

Mr. Fussbody—That's not the point. At the same time he was wearin' a cerise necktie—a most shocking combination.

No Confidence in Signs

Customer—I have spoilt my suit with your fresh paint.

Provision Dealer—But didn't you see the notice: "Fresh paint?"

Customer—Yes, but I didn't take much notice. You have a notice, "Fresh eggs," but they are not fresh.

DOUGH CAME EASY

"Why do all these big bakers get rich?"

"Making dough comes easy to them."

Inevitable Punishment

We saw the bold detectives thrive on clues that forth were hurried; And if the miscreant is alive, We know they're got him worried.

Amateur and Professional

"My boy, I'm afraid your father will have to lose his right hand."

"Gee, Doc, how soon will he be able to learn to sign checks with his left hand?"

"Just as soon as I can teach him."

The Obstinate Beast

Her Mother—Now that you know Ferdinand wasn't out with another woman, as you thought, why don't you make up with him?

Mrs. Junebride—Why, he hasn't even attempted to beg my forgiveness.

A Bad Habit, Say We

Wife—Do you know that you are getting to be quite a deer?

Husband—Yes, it's a way I have when it gets anywhere near your birthday.

Names of Nuts

Doctor Lion—Now, Micky, tell me the names of some nuts.

Micky—Coconuts, brazil nuts, and forget-me-nuts.

Not a Doubt

Visitor—And what sort of man are you going to be when you leave prison?

Prisoner (in for twenty years)—An old one, lady.—The Humorist.

Wanted a Trophy

"So you are going to Africa, Joe?"

"Yes, girlie. Want a trophy?"

"Sure I do. Bring me some tiger antlers."

Feeding the Brute

Men may like dainty girls, but their idea of zero in eats is dainty refreshments.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick and permanent relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Nothing but an internal medicine can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. J. S. Leonard discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1000 patients with success in 960 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. Druggists everywhere now sell it and H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy guarantee money-back if HEM-ROID does not end Piles in any form. advt.

Stretch your dollar

Advertising helps you stretch your dollar. You do not need to shop around all day to find what you want at the price you can afford to pay. The advertisements in the newspapers tell you where you can buy it at the lowest price. Advertisements save you time, save money, save physical effort. They make buying easy and sure.

Advertising enables the woman in the home to compare values without moving from her easy chair. She can shop comfortably in her own living-room. When she has decided what and where to buy, it takes but little time and effort to complete the purchases.

Women appreciate the advantages of advertising. They trust it. They believe in the goods advertised . . . and buy them.

Swiftly the whole of the old black curtain seemed to be drawn aside, and the eyes behind the curtain—eyes which last had looked upon the world in the year 1900—saw the amazing world of today.

Mr. Fish is the head and founder of the Northwestern Business college. When students and teachers come to his office now he closes his eyes "in order to recognize them more readily"—because his ears are better trained than his eyes.

The original loss of his vision was the result of a blow on the head. The restoration was time's slow healing of that injury.

Atlanta Children Fall
Far Without Injury

Atlanta, Ga.—Atlanta's parents hope the city's epidemic of long-distance noninjury falling records is ended.

Two-year-old James Chastain, Jr., started the competition with a 25-foot fall from the second-story window of his home. The next day James was a little sore in one hip but he was seen looking out of the same window from which he flopped the day before.

That record stood one day. Then Ruth Jensen, four, fell 34 feet out of an upstairs window into a rose bush which must have withdrawn its thorns, for she wasn't even scratched.

George Williams, adult titleholder, has completely recovered from a five-story fall down an elevator shaft which left him whole but somewhat bruised.

Later Mrs. Cora Hunter fell eight inches down one doorstep and fractured a wrist.

Woman Asks to Talk to
Board as to Husband

Washington, N. C.—After an elderly woman demanded to discuss the issue in question with Beaufort county commissioners "one at a time," it was decided to defer action until August in the matter of continuing work of the county home demonstration agent.

Fifty women appeared before the board to urge retention of the agent's services.

The elderly woman took the floor. "Mr. Chairman," she said, "I ain't much for talking to a big bunch of men like this, but I sure can tell it to 'em one at a time. If you all are thinking of doing away with the home demonstration agent, I'd like to have the opportunity of seeing each member of the board by himself and talking to him like I been used to talking to my husband."

The commissioners lost no time in deferring action.

Prisoner Walks Out of
Court as Officers Argue

Toronto, Ont.—Magistrate Jones and Inspector Guthrie differed in their interpretations of the laws regarding the legality of bright automobile headlights during Mrs. M. V. Molson's appearance in police court on a charge of driving with lights that were too bright. While they were arguing, Mrs. Molson walked out of the courtroom. The argument subsided when it was discovered that the defendant was gone.

"She disappeared during the storm," the magistrate commented as he withdrew the charge against her.

Hair Cut by Lightning,
He Feels "Pretty Good"

Excelsior Springs, Mo.—Fred Skelton, farmer, believes in plenty of fresh air and sleeps with his head near an open window. One night lightning shot through the screen and struck his pillow, tore it to fragments and took off all of his hair. After being unconscious for about an hour, the farmer came to and said he felt "pretty good."

SOME MAKE A THOUSAND

A motorist, calling on an Aberdonian friend who had bought his first car, was surprised to find him emptying the contents of an oil can into his petrol tank.

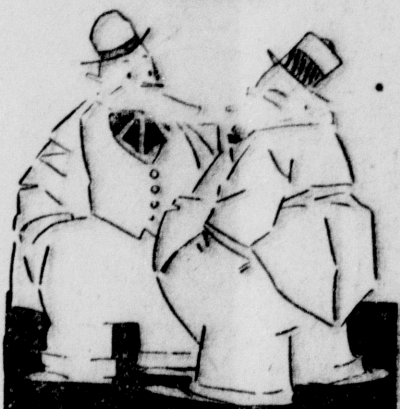

"What on earth are you doing?" the visitor asked.
"Why," replied the other, "d'ye ken this car will run only 30 miles on a gallon of petrol, while she'll do about 700 on a gallon of oil?"—Evening Post (Wellington, N. Z.).

Lofty Assumptions

"What are you going to do with your boy Josh?"
"I'm going to make an aviator of him," answered Farmer Cornutssel.
"Can he qualify?"

"I think so. He has been so busy thinkin' he's far and away above the rest of us, I'm goin' to see to it he gets a chance to make good."

"The army should take only married men."

"Why?"
"Because they're trained to take orders, of course."

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick and permanent relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Nothing but an internal medicine can do this—that's why cutting and knives fail. Dr. J. S. Leonard discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1000 patients with success in 960 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. Druggists everywhere now sell it and H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy guarantee money-back if HEM-ROID does not end Piles in any form. advt.

CARDS NEED 4 WINS OF 6 GAMES TO CLINCH PENNANT

REGARDLESS OF
WHAT OTHER CLUBS
MAY TURN OUT

IF CARDS WIN ONLY 3, CHICAGO
CUBS ALL OF THEIR 5, DEAD-
LOCK WILL RESULT

BROOKLYN IS VIRTUALLY OUT
OF RACE, NEW YORK GIANTS
ARE ELIMINATED

(By United Press)
The St. Louis Cardinals today need four victories out of their remaining six games to clinch the National League pennant regardless of what the other contenders do.

If the Cardinals win three of their remaining games, and the Chicago Cubs win all five of their games, the National League race will end in a deadlock between the Cards and Cubs.

Brooklyn is virtually out of the race, and can only tie St. Louis if the Cards lose four games and the Robins win their remaining five.

The New York Giants have been eliminated from all but a tie for the pennant. The Cards would have to lose their remaining six games and the Giants win their three for New York and St. Louis to tie.

The Cards had a 2½-game lead over the Cubs today as they faced the Phillies in their next to last game at Philadelphia before returning home to finish the season with four games against Pittsburgh.

The Cards were idle yesterday while the Cubs beat the Boston Braves, 4-2. Gabby Hartnett's 34th home run of the season with Heathcote on base won the game in the ninth inning.

Brooklyn sustained its fifth straight defeat by losing to Pittsburgh, 7-6. Denny Southern saving the game for the Pirates with a spectacular catch on Babe Herman in the ninth inning.

The Giants missed a chance to go into a tie with the Robins for third place when they divided a double-header with Cincinnati. After winning the first game, 6-4, the Giants dropped the second, 7-6, when darkness halted the contest in the eighth inning.

Catcher Spencer's wild throw in the tenth enabled Detroit to defeat Washington, 4-3.

The Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees, 15-7, aided by five Yankee errors.

Five runs in the tenth gave the Boston Red Sox a 9-4 victory over Cleveland, Wesley Ferrell being charged with the defeat.

American Association Tabs

American Association fans marked the end of the 1930 season today and turned their interest to the "Little World Series" beginning Wednesday between the Louisville Colonels, Association champs, and Rochester, International leaders. The series starts on Wednesday at Rochester.

The Association final standings were Louisville 608, St. Paul 591, Toledo 571, Minneapolis 503, Kansas City 487, Columbus 438, Milwaukee 409, Indianapolis 392.

Results of the closing games Sunday were: St. Paul 5-2, Kansas City 4-4; Columbus 11-2, Toledo 7-15 (second game 7 innings); Louisville 11, Indianapolis 0; Minneapolis 12, Milwaukee 8.

TOMMY ARMOUR IS $2500 RICHER

ADDS ANOTHER TRIUMPH, WIN- NING ST. LOUIS OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Tommy Armour, Orchard Lake, Mich., professional was $2,500 richer today, the result of adding another triumph to his golfing conquests when he won the $10,000 St. Louis open golf tournament here yesterday.

Armour's 176 over the 72 holes of the Sunset Hill Country club links gave him two strokes under Walter Hagen, his nearest rival who received $2,000.

Horton Smith, Cragston, N. Y., professional who was picked to win the contest before the play began ended in a tie for third place with Joe Kirkwood, Flushing, N. Y., and Al Espinosa North Brook, Ill., with 281. Each received $1,083.33.

Jimmy Manion, St. Louis amateur was the only amateur to finish among the prize winners. He will receive a diamond emblem for his 287 score.

Harry Cooper, Chicago, ended the tournament in fourth place with a score of 282 to take $500 prize money.

HAMLIN COLLEGE TO OPEN STATE COLLEGE PLAY

JOURNEYS TO NORTHFIELD TO PLAY AGAINST ST. OLAF

3 NIGHT PRACTICE GAMES WERE PLAYED LAST FRIDAY BY TEAM

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Hamline college gridders will journey to Northfield Saturday to open the Minnesota college conference football race against St. Olaf.

Three night practice games were played last Friday and another—the first in the Twin Cities—is planned for this Friday. Three other games will be played Saturday by Minnesota conference teams but only the Hamline-St. Olaf contest will have any bearing on the championship race.

St. Olaf is a heavy favorite to defeat Hamline in the season's first game and is also expected to lead the parade when November ends the season. Coach Ade Christanson of St. Olaf has a capable first string team and a heavier crew of reserves than any other coach in the conference. D. C. Mitchell at Hamline has been handicapped by lack of material and by ineptness. Saturday the squad suffered another blow when Lloyd Belden, letterman back, decided not to play this year.

Friday night St. Thomas college will meet River Falls, Wis., normal school under the floodlights on the St. Thomas field. Coach Joe Boland has planned several practice sessions under the heavy lights to accustom his men to night playing. St. Thomas is favored to win over the Wisconsin team.

Other Saturday practice games will bring all of the Minnesota conference teams into action with the exception of those which played last week and Augsburg which will not open until the following week.

Games scheduled are between Macalester and Scout Institute which lost to Winona State Teachers Saturday 26-6. St. Paul Luther and St. Johns at Collegeville and Eau Claire at Carleton.

Gustavus Adolphus has an open date this week after beating St. Paul Luther, 52-0 last Friday. Concordia and St. Mary's also have a breather.

UNITED PRESS ALL-AMERICAN BASEBALL TEAM

6 AMERICAN LEAGUE AND 5 NATIONAL LEAGUE PLAYERS ARE PICKED

PITCHERS NAMED ARE ROBERT GROVE, WESLEY FERRELL, TEDDY LYONS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Sept. 22.—Six American League and five National League players are picked on the United Press all-American baseball team for 1930.

Although the major league season does not end until next Sunday, the following players have sufficiently distinguished themselves to warrant their selections:

Pos.	Name	Team	AB.
1b	Bill Terry	New York Giants	405
2b	Freddy Frisch	St. Louis Cardinals	338
3b	Freddy Lindstrom	New York Giants	367
ss	Joe Cronin	Washington Senators	350
lf	Al Simmons	Philadelphia Athletics	337
cf	Hack Wilson	Chicago Cubs	355
r	Chuck Klein	Philadelphia Phillies	369
c	Gordon Cochrane	Phil. Athletics	357

	W.	L.	Pct.
p—Robert Grove, Phil. A's.	27	5	.844
p—Wesley Ferrell, Cleve. Indians	25	12	.675
p—Teddy Lyons, Chi. White Sox	21	14	.600

Five of the players—Terry, Frisch, Simmons, Wilson and Cochrane—are standouts at their positions, while the pitching staff of Grove, Ferrell and Lyons selects itself on the remarkable records of these three hurlers.

Terry's only rival at first base is Lou Gehrig, who leads the American League in hitting, but, nevertheless, must play second fiddle to one of the really great first basemen of all time. Not only is Terry the only major league player batting over .400, but he is the outstanding fielder at his position in either league.

Frisch has never played a greater game at second than he has this season, and it has been his work which has been largely responsible for the Cardinals' amazing comeback.

Simmons, Cochrane and Grove are the outstanding players on the Athletics' second pennant winner. Simmons has driven in 156 runs, being second only to Gehrig in the American League. Cochrane is baseball's smartest catcher, as well as a timely hitter.

Hack Wilson has hit 52 home runs and led all major league players in runs batted in, 178, more than any other player ever batted in.

Grove is one of the greatest southpaws in history and his record of 27 victories and 5 defeats is one of the best of the past ten years. Ferrell in his second year in the majors has won 25 games, perhaps the best record made by any young pitcher since Grover Cleveland Alexander won 28 games in his first year with the Phillies in 1911.

Ted Lyons' record of 21 victories and 14 defeats for a seventh-place club boasting a percentage of only .393 is tribute to this stellar pitcher.

Right field presented a difficult problem, where Klein, Babe Ruth, Babe Herman and Kiki Cuyler were leading candidates. Klein, however, deserved the honor because of his consistently good play with a tail-ender. Ruth was out with injuries. Cuyler slowed up towards the end of a trying season. Babe Herman failed the Robins when they needed him most.

The weakest position generally in both major leagues seemed to be third base, where Freddy Lindstrom stood out over a mediocre field. Lindstrom had his ups and downs, but so did Traynor, McManus and Bluege.

Joe Cronin's batting earned him the shortstop job over Travis Jackson of the Giants, Glenn Wright of Brooklyn and Charley Gelbert of the Cardinals.

The Philadelphia Athletics won their 100th victory of the season when they defeated the St. Louis Browns, 19-4, in the second game of a double-header after losing the opener, 8-4.

1930 EDITION OF "GIANTS OF NORTH" BEING SHAPED

FIRST GAME OF YEAR AGAINST SOUTH DAKOTA ONLY WEEK AWAY

CRISLER TO HAVE 3 BACKFIELD COMBINATIONS TO WORK WITH

Minneapolis, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Sore and weary after a week's constant charging, tackling, running and kicking, the 1930 edition of "Giants of the North," University of Minnesota football team began to take shape today.

More than 80 candidates worked during the first week under the eye of Coach Fritz Crisler and his half dozen assistants.

With the first game of the year against South Dakota state only a week away, Crisler sent his men through one rigorous drill after another in an effort to get them into early season shape.

The South Dakota game will give Minnesota football enthusiasts their first real chance to see their favorites in action. Though the first practice sessions were largely given over to fundamentals, a few signals and standard line plays were passed out.

Emphasis throughout the early training sessions was placed on the linemen with Tad Wieman, former Michigan mentor, running the entire quota of candidates through heavy charging and shifting practise.

Despite the change over from the Spears type of football to the Crisler system, critics agreed the men adapted themselves quickly. Many of them had previous experience with the Crisler technique during the spring practice sessions.

As practise began it became apparent that Crisler would have at least three backfield combinations to work with. The wealth of backfield material and rawness of linemen characterized the early sessions.

Clint Riebeth, Pete Somers, Russ Leksell and Win Brockmeyer made up one combination which Crisler tried. All of these men are speedy, especially Riebeth and Somers and Brockmeyer. Leksell was used at fullback in this quartet with Somers calling signals.

Somers is highly touted for his passing ability and flashy open field running. Riebeth at halfback shone with sensational broken field running last year. Brockmeyer was elected captain to become the first Minnesota man to hold that office since the 1928 season.

A second combination tried out by Crisler consisted of Jack Manders, North Dakota, had being groomed to fill holes left by graduation of Bronko Nagurski and Herb Joesting two years ago.

Others in the backfield are Bill Brownell, Quentin Burdick and Paul Kirk.

On the line several of the veterans have been developing rapidly, though three or four of the outstanding players have yet to pass scholastic tests and quizzes before being declared eligible to cavort on the gridiron.

TRADED REVOLVER USED IN KILLING

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR VICTOR KETTUNEUN, OWNER OF BLOOD-STAINED CAR

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 22.—(UP)—A revolver obtained from an oil station attendant in trade for an old watch was used to kill Mrs. Joy Ahlgren, 43, and Mrs. Mabel Hoey, 37, widow, police said today.

Search for Victor Kettuneun, 40, whose blood-stained car started police on their hunt for the bodies of the two women became statewide today, as all clues of his whereabouts failed.

Funeral for the two women slain in an alleged love quarrel were held today. The funeral of Mrs. Hoey was held at her home at Balsam Lake, Wis., and that of Mrs. Ahlgren here.

Police said that they had positive evidence that the gun used in the killing was a .38 calibre revolver formerly owned by an oil station attendant. The attendant said he had traded it to Kettuneun Tuesday for an old watch.

FROM the killed environs of St. Andrews to the old-fashioned bars in the "foreign" colony at Shanghai, and wherever else the game of golf has even the faintest appeal, the talk this week will turn to Bobby Jones and the U. S. Amateur Championship, in which he will start at the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford, Pa., today.

Jones, as everyone knows, is bent on making this event his fourth major golf victory in less than a year. Bobby has won since last May the British Amateur and Open titles, the U. S. Open crown and now he'll try for his own original favorite, the U. S. Amateur. Those are the "Big Four" championships in world golf. Being an amateur, Bobby does not compete for that other great links trophy, the Professional Golfers' Association crown.

Since the Amateur still features those short 18-hole matches such as have tripped Jones in the past, fears are felt that even the game's "Emperor" may meet the fate he did last year and be eliminated in the first or an early round by some comparatively unknown rival. Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, upset Bobby last year and the former will compete again this week.

Harrison ("Jimmy") Johnston won this championship in 1929 and he will defend it at Haverford. This exceedingly popular war veteran is a particularly skilled match player and is reputed to be "right on his game." Johnston's keenest opponent in last year's Amateur.

George Voigt, of Long Island, will be in the field, together with George Von Elm, Maurice McCarthy, Jr., Don Moe and fully four-fifths of America's other great links amateurs.

Sure, it will be Jones against the field again—a field not as skilled as in the big opens, where professional talent abounds—but, with those 18-hole matches in mind, the U. S. Amateur is studied with more serious pitfalls (as history shows) than any other competition save its British counterpart which gave Bobby such close calls last Spring.

However, it's at least even money (as the boys say) that Jones will complete his 1930 golf sweeps this week by annexing that fourth major championship.

CARDS NEED 4 WINS OF 6 GAMES TO CLINCH PENNANT

REGARDLESS OF
WHAT OTHER CLUBS
MAY TURN OUT

IF CARDS WIN ONLY 3, CHICAGO
CUBS ALL OF THEIR 5, DEAD-
LOCK WILL RESULT

BROOKLYN IS VIRTUALLY OUT
OF RACE, NEW YORK GIANTS
ARE ELIMINATED

(By United Press)
The St. Louis Cardinals today needed four victories out of their remaining six games to clinch the National League pennant regardless of what the other contenders do.

If the Cardinals win three of their remaining games, and the Chicago Cubs win all five of their games, the National League race will end in a deadlock between the Cards and Cubs.

Brooklyn is virtually out of the race, and can only tie St. Louis if the Cards lose four games and the Robins win their remaining five.

The New York Giants have been eliminated from all but a tie for the pennant. The Cards would have to lose their remaining six games and the Giants win their three for New York and St. Louis to tie.

The Cards had a 2½-game lead over the Cubs today as they faced the Phillies in their next to last game at Philadelphia before returning home to finish the season with four games against Pittsburgh.

The Cards were idle yesterday while the Cubs beat the Boston Braves, 4-2. Gabby Hartnett's 34th home run of the season with Heathcote on base won the game in the ninth inning.

Brooklyn sustained its fifth straight defeat by losing to Pittsburgh, 7-6. Denny Southern saving the game for the Pirates with a spectacular catch on Babe Herman in the ninth inning.

The Giants missed a chance to go into a tie with the Robins for third place when they divided a double-header with Cincinnati. After winning the first game, 6-4, the Giants dropped the second, 7-6, when darkness halted the contest in the eighth inning.

Catcher Spencer's wild throw in the tenth enabled Detroit to defeat Washington, 4-3.

The Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees, 15-7, aided by five Yankee errors.

Five runs in the tenth gave the Boston Red Sox a 9-4 victory over Cleveland, Wesley Ferrell being charged with the defeat.

American Association Tabs

American Association fans marked the end of the 1930 season today and turned their interest to the "Little World Series" beginning Wednesday between the Louisville Colonels, Association champs, and Rochester, International leaders. The series starts on Wednesday at Rochester.

The Association final standings were Louisville .608, St. Paul .591, Toledo .571, Minneapolis .503, Kansas City .487, Columbus .438, Milwaukee .409, Indianapolis .392.

Results of the closing games Sunday were: St. Paul 5-2, Kansas City 4-4; Columbus 11-2, Toledo 7-15 (second game 7 innings); Louisville 11, Indianapolis 0; Minneapolis 12, Milwaukee 8.

TOMMY ARMOUR

IS $2500 RICHER

ADDS ANOTHER TRIUMPH, WIN-NING ST. LOUIS OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Tommy Armour, Orchard Lake, Mich., professional was $2,500 richer today, the result of adding another triumph to his golfing conquests when he won the $10,000 St. Louis open golf tournament here yesterday.

Armour's 178 over the 72 holes of the Samson Hill Country club links gave him two strokes under Walter Hagen, his nearest rival who received $2,000.

Horton Smith, Cragston, N. Y., professional who was picked to win the contest before the play began ended in a tie for third place with Joe Kirkwood, Flushing, N. Y., and Al Espinosa North Brook, Ill., with 281. Each received $1,083.33.

Jimmy Manion, St. Louis amateur was the only amateur to finish among the prize winners. He will receive a diamond emblem for his 287 score.

Harry Cooper, Chicago, ended the tournament in fourth place with a score of 282 to take $500 prize money.

HAMLIN COLLEGE TO OPEN STATE COLLEGE PLAY

JOURNEYS TO NORTHFIELD TO PLAY AGAINST ST. OLAF

3 NIGHT PRACTICE GAMES WERE PLAYED LAST FRIDAY
BY TEAM

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Hamline college gridders will journey to Northfield Saturday to open the Minnesota college conference football race against St. Olaf.

Three night practice games were played last Friday and another—the first in the Twin Cities, is planned for this Friday. Three other games will be played Saturday by Minnesota conference teams but only the Hamline-St. Olaf contest will have any bearing on the championship race.

St. Olaf is a heavy favorite to defeat Hamline in the season's first game and is also expected to lead the parade when November ends the season. Coach Ade Christanson of St. Olaf has a capable first string team and a heavier crew of reserves than any other coach in the conference. D. C. Mitchell at Hamline has been handicapped by lack of material and by ineptness. Saturday the squad suffered another blow when Lloyd Belden, letterman back, decided not to play this year.

Friday night St. Thomas college will meet River Falls, Wis., normal school under the floodlights on the St. Thomas field. Coach Joe Boland has planned several practice sessions under the heavy lights to accustom his men to night playing. St. Thomas is favored to win over the Wisconsin team.

Other Saturday practice games will bring all of the Minnesota conference teams into action with the exception of those which played last week and Augsburg which will not open until the following week.

Games scheduled are between Macalester and Scout Institute which lost to Winona State Teachers Saturday 26-6. St. Paul Luther and St. Johns at Collegeville and Eau Claire at Carleton.

Gustavus Adolphus has an open date this week after beating St. Paul Luther, 52-0 last Friday. Concordia and St. Mary's also have a breather.

UNITED PRESS ALL-AMERICAN BASEBALL TEAM

6 AMERICAN LEAGUE AND 5 NA-TIONAL LEAGUE PLAYERS ARE PICKED

PITCHERS NAMED ARE ROBERT GROVE, WESLEY FERRELL, TEDDY LYONS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Sept. 22.—Six American League and five National League players are picked on the United Press all-American baseball team for 1930.

Although the major league season does not end until next Sunday, the following players have sufficiently distinguished themselves to warrant their selections:

Pos.	Name	Team	AB.
1b	Bill Terry	New York Giants	405
2b	Freddy Frisch	St. Louis Cardinals	338
3b	Freddy Lindstrom	New York Giants	367
ss	Joe Cronin	Washington Senators	350
lf	Al Simmons	Philadelphia Athletics	337
cf	Hack Wilson	Chicago Cubs	355
rf	Chuck Klein	Philadelphia Phillies	389
c	Gordon Cochrane	Phila. Athletics	357

W. L. Pct.
p—Robert Grove, Phila. A's 27 5 .845
p—Wesley Ferrell, Cleve. Indians 25 12 .475
p—Teddy Lyons, Chi. White Sox 21 14 .600

Five of the players—Terry, Frisch, Simmons, Wilson and Cochrane—are standouts at their positions, while the pitching staff of Grove, Ferrell and Lyons selects itself on the remarkable records of these three hurlers.

Terry's only rival at first base is Lou Gehrig, who leads the American League in hitting, but, nevertheless, must play second fiddle to one of the really great first basemen of all time. Not only is Terry the only major league player batting over .400, but he is the outstanding fielder at his position in either league.

Frisch has never played a greater game at second than he has this season, and it has been his work which has been largely responsible for the Cardinals' amazing comeback.

Simmons, Cochrane and Grove are the outstanding player on the Athletics' second pennant winner. Simmons has driven in 156 runs, being second only to Gehrig in the American League. Cochrane is baseball's smartest catcher, as well as a timely hitter.

Hack Wilson has hit 52 home runs and led all major league players in runs batted in, 178, more than any other player ever batted in.

Grove is one of the greatest southpaws in history and his record of 27 victories and 5 defeats is one of the best of the past ten years. Ferrell in his second year in the majors has won 23 games, perhaps the best record made by any young pitcher since Grover Cleveland Alexander won 28 games in his first year with the Phillies in 1911.

Ted Lyons' record of 21 victories and 14 defeats for a seventh-place club boasting a percentage of only .393 is tribute to this stellar pitcher.

Right field presented a difficult problem, where Klein, Babe Ruth, Babe Herman and Kiki Cuyler were leading candidates. Klein, however, deserved the honor because of his consistently good play with a tail-end. Ruth was out with injuries. Cuyler slowed up towards the end of a trying season. Babe Herman failed the Robins when they needed him most.

The weakest position generally in both major leagues seemed to be third base, where Freddy Lindstrom stood out over a mediocre field. Lindstrom had his ups and downs, but so did Traynor, McManus and Bluege.

Joe Cronin's batting earned him the shortstop job over Travis Jackson of the Giants, Glenn Wright of Brooklyn and Charley Gelbert of the Cardinals.

The Philadelphia Athletics won their 100th victory of the season when they defeated the St. Louis Browns, 10-4, in the second game of a double-header after losing the opener, 8-4.

1930 EDITION OF "GIANTS OF NORTH" BEING SHAPED

FIRST GAME OF YEAR AGAINST SOUTH DAKOTA ONLY
WEEK AWAY

CRISLER TO HAVE 3 BACKFIELD COMBINATIONS TO WORK WITH

Minneapolis, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Sore and weary after a week's constant charging, tackling, running and kicking, the 1930 edition of "Giants of the North," University of Minnesota football team began to take shape today.

More than 80 candidates worked during the first week under the eye of Coach Fritz Crisler and his half dozen assistants.

With the first game of the year against South Dakota state only a week away, Crisler sent his men through one rigorous drill after another in an effort to get them into early season shape.

The South Dakota game will give Minnesota football enthusiasts their first real chance to see their favorites in action. Though the first practice sessions were largely given over to fundamentals, a few signals and standard line plays were passed out.

Emphasis throughout the early training sessions was placed on the linemen with Tad Wieman, former Michigan mentor, running the entire quota of candidates through heavy charging and shifting practice.

Despite the change over from the Spears type of football to the Crisler system, critics agreed the men adapted themselves quickly. Many of them had previous experience with the Crisler technique during the spring practice sessions.

As practice began it became apparent that Crisler would have at least three backfield combinations to work with. The wealth of backfield material and rawness of linemen characterized the early sessions.

Clint Riebeth, Pete Somers, Russ Leksell and Win Brockmeyer made up one combination which Crisler tried. All of these men are speedy, especially Riebeth and Somers and Brockmeyer. Leksell was used at fullback in this quartet with Somers calling signals.

Somers is highly touted for his passing ability and flashy open field running. Riebeth at halfback shone with sensational broken field running last year. Brockmeyer was elected captain to become the first Minnesota man to hold that office since the 1928 season.

A second combination tried out by Crisler consisted of Jack Manders, North Dakota, had being groomed to fill holes left by graduation of Bronko Nagurski and Herb Josting two years ago.

Others in the backfield are Bill Brownell, Quentin Burdick and Paul Kirk.

On the line several of the veterans have been developing rapidly, though three or four of the outstanding players have yet to pass scholastic tests and quizzes before being declared eligible to cavort on the gridiron.

TRADED REVOLVER USED IN KILLING

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR VICTOR KETTUNEUN, OWNER OF BLOOD-STAINED CAR

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—A revolver obtained from an oil station attendant in trade for an old watch was used to kill Mrs. Joy Ahlgren, 43, and Mrs. Mabel Hoey, 37, widow, police said today.

Search for Victor Kettuneun, 40, whose blood-stained car started police on their hunt for the bodies of the two women became statewide today, as all clues of his whereabouts failed.

Funeral for the two women slain in an alleged love quarrel were held today. The funeral of Mrs. Hoey was held at her home at Balsam Lake, Wis., and that of Mrs. Ahlgren here.

Police said that they had positive evidence that the gun used in the killing was a .38 calibre revolver formerly owned by an oil station attendant. The attendant said he had traded it to Kettuneun Tuesday for an old watch.

Jones vs. the Field Again

By HARDIN BURNLEY

FROM the killed environs of St. Andrews to the old-fashioned bars in the "foreign" colony at Shanghai, and wherever else the game of golf has even the faintest appeal, the talk this week will turn to Bobby Jones and the U. S. Amateur Championship, in which he will start at the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford, Pa., today.

Jones, as everyone knows, is bent on making this event his fourth major golf victory in less than a year. Bobby has won since last May the British Amateur and Open titles, the U. S. Open crown and now he'll try for his own original favorite, the U. S. Amateur. Those are the "Big Four" championships in world golf. Being an amateur, Bobby does not compete for that other great links trophy, the Professional Golfers' Association crown.

Since the Amateur still features those short 18-hole matches such as have tripped Jones in the past, fears are felt that even the game's "Emperor" may meet the fate he did last year and be eliminated in the first or an early round by some comparatively unknown rival. Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, upset Bobby last year and the former will compete again this week.

Harrison ("Jimmy") Johnston won this championship in 1929 and he will defend it at Haverford. This exceedingly popular war veteran is a particularly skilled match player and is reputed to be "right on his game." Johnston's keenest opponent in last year's Amateur

George Voigt, of Long Island, will be in the field, together with George Von Elm, Maurice McCarthy, Jr., Don Moe and fully four-fifths of America's other great links amateurs.

Sure, it will be Jones against the field again—a field not as skilled as in the big opens, where professional talent abounds but, with those 18-hole matches in mind, the U. S. Amateur is studded with more serious pitfalls (as history shows) than any other competition save its British counterpart which gave Bobby such close calls last Spring.

However, it's at least even money (as the boys say) that Jones will complete his 1930 golf sweeps this week by annexing that fourth major championship.

INDIANA HAS NEVER WON BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP

LITTLE PROSPECT OF PRECEDENT IN FOOTBALL BEING BROKEN

WITH A FAIR CHANCE OF LUCK HOOSIERS WILL FINISH IN FIRST DIVISION

Following is the sixth article of the United Press series in Big Ten conference football prospects. Tuesday's article will discuss the University of Michigan.

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Indiana university never has won the Big Ten conference football championship and there is little prospect of the precedent being broken this year, but if the Hoosiers have a fair share of luck there is a chance that they will finish in first division.

Coach Pat Page has only two varsity backs and two regular linemen left from an aggregation that won only two of its eight games last fall and he has booked another heavy schedule, calling for excessive travel, but there are indications that Indiana is going to be a stumbling block for its rivals. Indiana has been becoming increasingly tough year by year since Page took up the coaching reins and this season has the largest grid squad in the history of the school, including 17 lettermen from 1929 and a wealth of sophomore material.

Development of a capable line is Page's big problem and the lack of beef among line candidates is causing his worry. With Chuck Brubaker, quarterback, and George Ross, halfback, as a nucleus for his backfield, Pat believes his ball carriers will have little trouble gaining considerable yardage if he can build up a presentable forward wall.

Brubaker, rated by Page as the best quarterback in the conference, and Ross are certain of places in the backfield, with Vic Dauer and Walter Koenig, subs from last season, the leading candidates for the other two posts. Other backfield candidates include Ed Hughes, fullback, Lucien Ashby and Marian Dross, quarterbacks, and Emory Parks, halfback, from the 1929 reserve and the Sophomores Salusti, Edmonds and Streicher.

Ben Mankowski, who saw considerable action at center last year, is favored for the pivot post, while the veterans Paul Jasper, tackle, and Joe Zeller, guard, are counted on to hold down their old positions.

Ambrose Rascher, a 1929 substitute, is expected to win the other guard berth, with the veterans Walter Waraski and Charles Henry and the sophomores Ream and McDonald as his leading rivals.

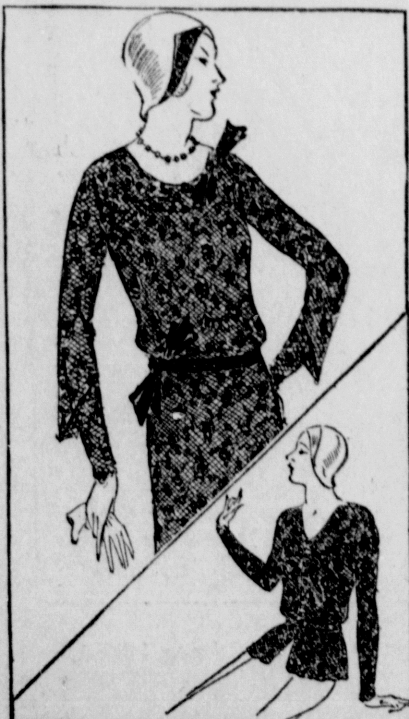

Page is having difficulty filling the other tackle and there is a possibility that either Brady, 1929 freshman star, or his mate Kuckins, a 190-pounder from Detroit, will draw the assignment. Fred Hill and Hugh Shanahan, seniors, Joe Morris and Charles Joyner, juniors, are the other candidates for the place.

Jack Hansen who showed class toward the close of the 1929 season and Art Thomas, another reserve, appear to be in the best of the 13 candidates for end. Their rivals include Bernard Dickey, 195-pound sophomore; Bill Blagrove, basketball star, and Paul Richardson, of last year's championship "B" team.

Unwillingness of other conference schools to play at Bloomington, where gate receipts are small, forced Page to schedule games where and when he could and all but three of Indiana's games will be played on foreign fields. The complete schedule is:

Sept. 27—Miami (O.) at Bloomington; Oct. 4—Ohio State at Columbus; Oct. 11—Oklahoma A. & M. at Bloomington; Oct. 18—Minnesota at Minneapolis; Oct. 25—Southern Methodist at Dallas, Tex.; Nov. 1—Notre Dame at South Bend; Nov. 8—Northwestern at Bloomington; Nov. 15—open; Nov. 22—Purdue at Lafayette.

Wool Lace the Sensation in Way of Fall Style News

It's a thrilling bit of fashion news—this about wool lace for frocks and the blouse. Not too formal for sports wear nor yet too "sporty" for dressy occasion. You'll love an afternoon frock of wool lace in either deep wine or dark green or in one of the fashionable browns, especially when touched with bows and a belt of matching velvet ribbon as pictured. The blouse of wool lace with the fall suit is the "last word."

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

And the duck chorus quacked, "I'm Flyin' High!"

Laugh and the ducks laugh with you; shoot and you laugh alone!

We don't vouch for the truth of this story, but the boys are telling this one on Pete Cardie, our efficient game warden:

Pete was out checking licenses and was passing a spot where he thought he discerned some hunters in the rushes.

"Who's in there?" asked Pete.

The only reply was the clucking, clacking, or cackling noise which might be attributed to a flock of industrious rice hens enjoying their breakfast.

Not quite convinced Mr. Cardie in stentorian tones again bellowed the question:

"I say, is there anyone in those rushes?"

Came the startling answer in a high, squeaky soprano:

"Just a bunch of us rice hens, Mr. Cardie!"

Speaking of "flyin' high"—that's just what the Cardinals are doing now but the Robins were fired at and shot up pretty badly by the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday and Saturday. Two straight defeats at the hands of the Pirates didn't help their standing any—and incidentally that makes five losses in a row for Uncle Wilbur's boys.

Aitkin lived up to expectations Saturday and handed a neat 38-0 drubbing to Cambridge. These Aitkin gridgers are going to be plenty tough this year from all advance indications.

There is a lot of talk of ousting Joe McCarthy from the management of the Chicago Cubs. One Chicago newspaper says he is done, whether or not the Cubs win the National League flag. One thing can't be denied, however—McCarthy has a good record with the Cubs. In 1926, his first year with them, they finished fourth while they finished last the year before. The team finished fourth again in 1927, third in 1928 and on top last year. Not bad!

The Cubs have been handicapped this year by a lot of bad breaks. It is a wonder that they are still in the running after the death of Hal Carlson, pitching ace, and injuries to Rogers Hornsby, Charley Grimm, Lester Bell, Riggs Stephenson and Charley Reol.

The little argument between Jack Sharkey, the Boston Gob, and Vittorio Campolo, the giant Argentine heavyweight, is about the only fist encounter of any prominence scheduled for this week. The two will toss a little leather at each other at the Yankee stadium in a scheduled fifteen round bout next Thursday evening. Campolo hasn't shown much so far, but Sharkey hasn't been "so hot" himself on several occasions.

When Brainerd tangles with Wadena the latter part of the week the line will have the problem of stopping Terry Olin, Wadena fullback. Olin is big and fast and the consensus of opinion at Wadena seems to be that Captain Olin should easily be the outstanding fullback of the district this year. Well, we'll see!

There is no getting around the fact that Coach Tony Chermuk must have a pretty good football team at Wadena this year. It takes a pretty good team to run up a 44-0 score on the general run of high school teams. That is what Wadena did to Sebeka last Friday, and Sebeka is said to have a heavy, veteran line-up. That doesn't sound so good for Brainerd, does it?

Cullop, Wallop and Co. are scheduled to appear here next Thursday. Got your ticket yet?

There is a great deal of talk now of the merchants closing their stores at four o'clock next Thursday afternoon when the Saints blow into town. Why not? Little Falls closed when the Millers visited them. The Saints are even a better ball club than the Millers, and Brainerd will have the added attraction of seeing the Saints and Mr. Nicholas Cullop, the American Association home run king, all in one afternoon.

Latest reports from the Pee-Wee golf tournament up at Sunny Links have it that one man qualified for the finals with a score of 43—one under par. That is some putting on that

BOBBY JONES SHOOT A 69 AT NATIONAL TOURNEY

QUALIFYING ROUND IN NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF TOURNAMENT

LESTER BOLSTAD, OF ST. PAUL, TURNS IN A SCORE OF 79

Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Bobby Jones shot a 69—one under par—in the first 18 holes of the qualifying round in the National Amateur Golf Tournament today. Bobby played steady rather than spectacular golf, content to trail along with par figures, until opportunities for birdies presented themselves.

Jones bagged his first birdie at the 335-yard tenth hole, where, after topping his mashie niblick approach, he found his ball six feet from the pin. He sank the putt for a birdie three.

At only one hole did the Atlantan yield a stroke to par. This was at the eleventh, where he sliced his drive and sent his approach over the green, where he found a hanging lie and needed a five to get down.

Another birdie came Bob's way at the short thirteenth, where he dropped a ten-foot putt after putting his tee shot on the diminutive green.

For the rest, it was a case of even par figures all the way, with the Atlantan's putter working well and his recovery shots ready whenever he erred from the tee.

Lester Bolstad, St. Paul, had 37-42—79.

Johnny Goodman, Omaha, Neb., who put Jones out in the first round last year, reached the turn in 39, three over par.

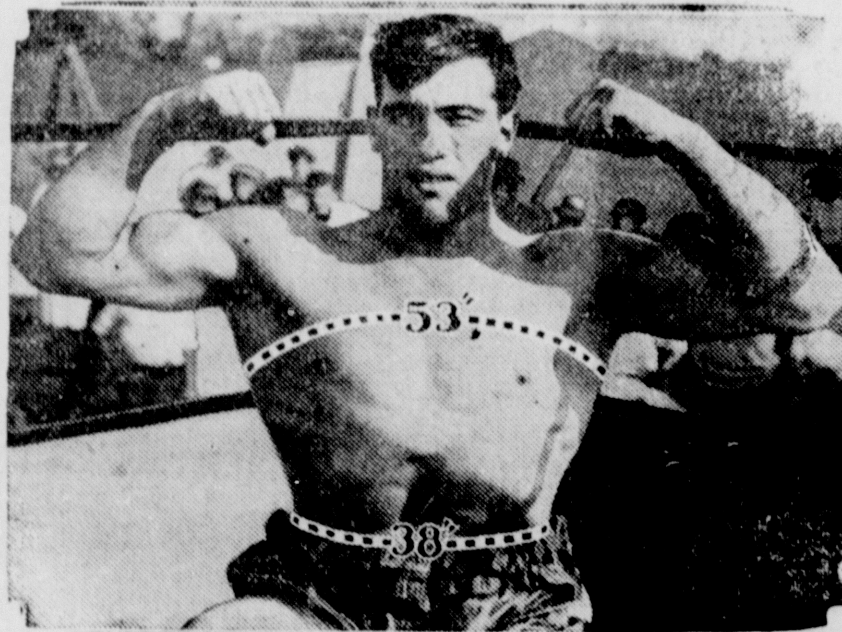

Dr. Oscar Willing, Portland, Ore., runner-up to Johnston last year, reached the turn in 37.

Harrison Johnston, present title holder, gravely endangered his chances of qualifying by shootnig an 83.

Done Moe, Portland, Ore., finished with a 74, going out in 38 and coming home in 36.

CARNERA—TWO MEN IN ONE

This mountain of beef and bone is Primo Carnera, who knocked out Jack Gross in Chicago after one minute and 11 seconds of fighting in the fourth round. He is two men rolled into one. His chest expanded is 53 inches; his waist measures 38 inches. He stands 6 feet 7 inches. His neck measures 20 inches, biceps 18, forearm 16, calf 19 and thigh 30. His weight is 270 pounds. What a man!

TALKING IT OVER

The grand old man of the University of Chicago, Coach A. A. Stagg, took charge of the Maroon football prospects for his thirty-ninth consecutive season. Stagg is faced with a shortness of material and isn't letting his thought wander toward championship hopes, but it is certain his hopefuls will be taught football.

SPORT BUGS WHO NEVER RUN OUT OF WIND THE SPORT BUG

CARNERA as a talking point is inflating more windbags (for and against his real ability) than any other sports personality in recent memory. How your (Italian) barber raves about Primo as the "real-a champ" and how your average N. Y. expert tells his public that the Ambling Alp is "the bunk." To the Sport Bug this situation is especially amusing right now. Is the loquacious Carnera-boosting barber wrong or is the typical fight expert blotto when he rates Madison Square Garden's own Campolo, World's Champion Schmeling, Jack Sharkey and Stribling so far ahead of the 6-foot-7, 262-pound slugger from Friuli, Italy, right outside of Venice?

Which has the right wind up—the Carnera mob in the barber shops or the Primo-hooting experts headed by such clever chaps as Dan Parker, "Doc" Morris, and Joe Williams?

Yep, that Carnera argument—more than any other sporting issue—is blowing up the wind bags to balloon proportions.

At present that Primo issue is paramount but it does not, of course, silence the usual pre-World series and football discussions. They are the annual standbys during this season.

Sport would be somewhat dull entertainment were it not for its windbag phases that stimulate much of the humor and nearly all the big laughs connected with contests of all sorts. It is not always easy to tell what is wind and what is wisdom in either oral or printed discussions. Libel and slander-laws are literally interpreted when sports are the subjects and that is why many a good athlete is either a "bum" or a "superman" in the argument hothouses where the windbags of sport hold forth.

Some are past masters of such oratory. INDIANA HAS NEVER WON BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP

LITTLE PROSPECT OF PRECEDENT IN FOOTBALL BEING BROKEN

WITH A FAIR CHANCE OF LUCK HOOSIERS WILL FINISH IN FIRST DIVISION

Following is the sixth article of the United Press series in Big Ten conference football prospects. Tuesday's article will discuss the University of Michigan.

By DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Indiana university never has won the Big Ten conference football championship and there is little prospect of the precedent being broken this year, but if the Hoosiers have a fair share of luck there is a chance that they will finish in first division.

Coach Pat Page has only two varsity backs and two regular linemen left from an aggregation that won only two of its eight games last fall and he has booked another heavy schedule, calling for excessive travel, but there are indications that Indiana is going to be a stumbling block for its rivals. Indiana has been becoming increasingly tough year by year since Page took up the coaching reins and this season has the largest grid squad in the history of the school, including 17 lettermen from 1929 and a wealth of sophomore material.

Development of a capable line is Page's big problem and the lack of beef among line candidates is causing his worry. With Chuck Brubaker, quarterback, and George Ross, halfback, as a nucleus for his backfield, Pat believes his ball carriers will have little trouble gaining considerable yardage if he can build up a presentable forward wall.

Brubaker, rated by Page as the best quarterback in the conference, and Ross are certain of places in the backfield, with Vic Dauer and Walter Koenig, subs from last season, the leading candidates for the other two posts. Other backfield candidates include Ed Hughes, fullback, Lucien Ashby and Marian Dross, quarterbacks, and Emory Parks, halfback, from the 1929 reserve and the Sophomores Saluski, Edmonds and Streicher.

Ben Mankowski, who saw considerable action at center last year, is favored for the pivot post, while the veterans Jack Jasper, tackle, and Joe Zeller, guard, are counted on to hold down their old positions.

Ambrose Rascher, a 1929 substitute, is expected to win the other guard berth, with the veterans Walter Waraska and Charles Henry and the sophomores Ream and McDonald as his leading rivals.

Page is having difficulty filling the other tackle and there is a possibility that either Brady, 1929 freshman star, or his mate Kuckins, a 190-pounder from Detroit, will draw the assignment. Fred Hill and Hugh Shanahan, seniors, Joe Morris and Charles Joyner, juniors are the other candidates for the place. Jack Hansen who showed class toward the close of the 1929 season and Art Thomas, another reserve, appear to be in the best of the 13 candidates for end. Their rivals include Bernard Dickey, 195-pound sophomore, Bill Blagrove, basketball star, and Paul Richardson, of last year's championship "B" team.

Unwillingness of other conference schools to play at Bloomington, where gate receipts are small, forced Page to schedule games where and when he could and all but three of Indiana's games will be played on foreign fields. The complete schedule is:

Sept. 27—Miami (O.) at Bloomington; Oct. 4—Ohio State at Columbus; Oct. 11—Oklahoma A. & M. at Bloomington; Oct. 18—Minnesota at Minneapolis; Oct. 25—Southern Methodist at Dallas, Tex.; Nov. 1—Notre Dame at South Bend; Nov. 8—Northwestern at Bloomington; Nov. 15—open; Nov. 22—Purdue at Lafayette.

Wool Lace the Sensation in Way of Fall Style News

It's a thrilling bit of fashion news—this about wool lace for frocks and the blouse. Not too formal for sports wear nor yet too "sporty" for dressy occasion. You'll love an afternoon frock of wool lace in either deep wine or dark green or in one of the fashionable browns, especially when touched with bows and a belt of matching velvet ribbon as pictured. The blouse of wool lace with the fall suit is the "last word."

SPORTS KAYOES

By "HAPPY"

And the duck chorus quacked, "I'm Flyin' High!"

Laugh and the ducks laugh with you; shoot and you laugh alone!

We don't vouch for the truth of this story, but the boys are telling this one on Pete Cardle, our efficient game warden:

Pete was out checking licenses and was passing a spot where he thought he discerned some hunters in the rushes.

"Who's in there?" asked Pete. The only reply was the clucking, clacking, or cackling noise which might be attributed to a flock of industrious rice hens enjoying their breakfast.

Not quite convinced Mr. Cardle in stentorian tones again bellowed the question: "I say, is there anyone in those rushes?" Came the startling answer in a high, squeaky soprano: "Just a bunch of us rice hens, Mr. Cardle!"

Speaking of "flyin' high"—that's just what the Cardinals are doing now but the Robins were fired at and shot up pretty badly by the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday and Saturday. Two straight defeats at the hands of the Pirates didn't help their standing any—and incidentally that makes five losses in a row for Uncle Wilbur's boys.

Altken lived up to expectations Saturday and handed a neat 3&0 drubbing to Cambridge. These Altken gridgers are going to be plenty tough this year from all advance indications.

There is a lot of talk of ousting Joe McCarthy from the management of the Chicago Cubs. One Chicago newspaper says he is done, whether or not the Cubs win the National League flag. One thing can't be denied, however—McCarthy has a good record with the Cubs. In 1926, his first year with them, they finished fourth while they finished last the year before. The team finished fourth again in 1927, third in 1928 and on top last year. Not bad!

The Cubs have been handicapped this year by a lot of bad breaks. It is a wonder that they are still in the running after the death of Hal Carlson, pitching ace, and injuries to Rogers Hornsby, Charley Grimm, Lester Bell, Riggs Stephenson and Charley Root.

The little argument between Jack Sharkey, the Boston Gob, and Vittorio Campolo, the giant Argentine heavyweight, is about the only fistie encounter of any prominence scheduled for this week. The two will toss a little leather at each other at the Yankee stadium in a scheduled fifteen round bout next Thursday evening. Campolo hasn't shown much so far, but Sharkey hasn't been "so hot" himself on several occasions.

When Brainerd tangles with Wadena the latter part of the week the line will have the problem of stopping Terry Olin, Wadena fullback. Olin is big and fast and the consensus of opinion at Wadena seems to be that Captain Olin should easily be the outstanding fullback of the district this year. Well, we'll see!

There is no getting around the fact that Coach Tony Chermak must have a pretty good football team at Wadena this year. It takes a pretty good team to run up a 44-0 score on the general run of high school teams. That is what Wadena did to Sebeka last Friday, and Sebeka is said to have a heavy, veteran line-up. That doesn't sound so good for Brainerd, does it?

Cullop, Wallop and Co. are scheduled to appear here next Thursday. Got your ticket yet?

There is a great deal of talk now of the merchants closing their stores at four o'clock next Thursday afternoon when the Saints blow into town. Why not? Little Falls closed when the Millers visited them. The Saints are even a better ball club than the Millers, and Brainerd will have the added attraction of seeing the Saints and Mr. Nicholas Cullop, the American Association home run king, all in one afternoon.

Latest reports from the Pee-Wee golf tournament up at Sunny Links have it that one man qualified for the finals with a score of 43—one under par. That is some putting on that course. Some think that the fellow must have had a croquet mallet, a billiard cue and a potato masher besides his regular putter to turn in a score like that.

Even Lottie says it was nice work.

BOBBY JONES SHOOT A 69 AT NATIONAL TOURNEY

QUALIFYING ROUND IN NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF TOURNAMENT

LESTER BOLSTAD, OF ST. PAUL, TURNS IN A SCORE OF 79

Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—Bobby Jones shot a 69—one under par—in the first 18 holes of the qualifying round in the National Amateur Golf Tournament today.

Bobby played steady rather than spectacular golf, content to trail along with par figures, until opportunities for birdies presented themselves.

Jones bagged his first birdie at the 335-yard tenth hole, where, after topping his mashie niblick approach, he found his ball six feet from the pin. He sank the putt for a birdie three.

At only one hole did the Atlantan yield a stroke to par. This was at the eleventh, where he sliced his drive and sent his approach over the green, where he found a hanging lie and needed a five to get down.

Another birdie came Bob's way at the short thirteenth, where he dropped a ten-foot putt after putting his tee shot on the diminutive green.

For the rest, it was a case of even par figures all the way, with the Atlantan's putter working well and his recovery shots ready whenever he erred from the tee.

Lester Bolstad, St. Paul, had 37-42—79.

Johnny Goodman, Omaha, Neb., who put Jones out in the first round last year, reached the turn in 39, three over par.

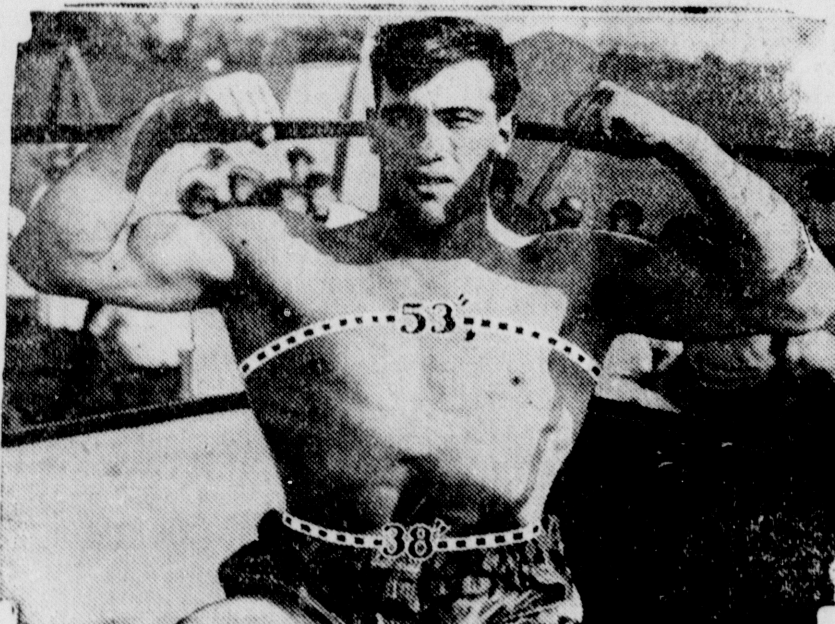

Dr. Oscar Willing, Portland, Ore., runner-up to Johnston last year, reached the turn in 37.

Harrison Johnston, present title holder, gravely endangered his chances of qualifying by shooting an 83.

Done Moe, Portland, Ore., finished with a 74, going out in 38 and coming home in 36.

CARNERA—TWO MEN IN ONE

This mountain of beef and bone is Primo Carnera, who knocked out Jack Gross in Chicago after one minute and 11 seconds of fighting in the fourth round. He is two men rolled into one. His chest expanded is 53 inches; his waist measures 38 inches. He stands 6 feet 7 inches. His neck measures 20 inches, biceps 18, forearm 16, calf 19 and thigh 30. His weight is 270 pounds. What a man!

TALKING IT OVER

The grand old man of the University of Chicago, Coach A. A. Stagg, took charge of the Maroon football prospects for his thirty-ninth consecutive season. Stagg is faced with a shortness of material and isn't letting his thought wander toward championship hopes, but it is certain his hopefuls will be taught football.

RAPPIN' FOR ORDER

Windbags of Sport

By HARDIN BURNLEY

CARNERA as a talking point is inflating more windbags (for and against his real ability) than any other sports personality in recent memory. How your (Italian) barber raves about Primo as the "real-a champ" and how your average N. Y. expert tells his public that the Ambling Alp is "the bunk." To the Sport Bug this situation is especially amusing right now. Is the loquacious Carnera-boosting barber wrong or is the typical fight expert blotto when he rates Madison Square Garden's own Campolo, World's Champion Schmeling, Jack Sharkey and Stribling so far ahead of the 6-foot-7, 262-pound slugger from Friuli, Italy, right outside of Venice?

Which has the right wind up—the Carnera mobs in the barber shops or the Primo-hooting experts headed by such clever chaps as Dan Parker, "Doc" Morris, and Joe Williams?

Yep, that Carnera argument—more than any other sporting issue—is blowing up the wind bags to balloon proportions.

At present that Primo issue is paramount but it does not, of course, silence the usual pre-World series and football discussions. They are the annual standbys during this season.

Sport would be somewhat dull entertainment were it not for its windbag phases that stimulate much of the humor and nearly all the big laughs connected with contests of all sorts. It is not always easy to tell what is wind and what is wisdom in either oral or printed discussions. Libel and slander-laws are literally interpreted when sports are the subjects and that is why many a good athlete is either a "bum" or a "superman" in the argument hothouses where the windbags of sport hold forth. Some are past masters of such oratory. Who wouldn't like to sit in, for example, on a debate over the respective appeal of boxing and wrestling between two such alluring champions of chatter as James Joy Johnston, the voice for "Phalling Phil" Scott and many other pugilistic pieces, and Jacques Curley, the Barum & Bailey of "assassin's" Yes, sport would be rather flat without its fierce, furious and funny inflationists.

FIGHTERS CONTROL 3 FIRES IN COUNTY

Quick Work of Forestry Men Prevent Serious Blazes in Three Townships

TWO HAYSTACKS BURN
500 Volunteers Quell Wisconsin's Most Serious Marsh Fire in
25 Years

Quick work by fire fighters of the state forestry department under the direction of E. H. Rhodes, district forester, prevented the spread over the week end of three fires in Crow Wing county, bland to carelessness of smokers in the woods.

While the fires continue, Mr. Rhodes said this afternoon they were practically under control and would do no extensive damage.

The fires burned two haystacks but did not damage any farm buildings. No farmers were threatened.

The fire in Wisconsin township swept over 50 acres, while that in Ironside township burned over 30 acres and 20 acres were blackened by the fire in Nokay Lake township.

SEVEN BUILDINGS BURN TO GROUND

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—A triangular area of 500,000 acres in central Wisconsin was a treacherous, flaming carpet today as 500 volunteers brought under control the state's most serious marsh fire in 25 years.

The flames ate into the ground to the depth of several inches, spreading beneath the surface until they reached the dried roots of trees and then shooting upward into the open.

Trees, their leaves still green, fell when their roots had been burned through close to the surface. When fire fighters stood too long in the spot, their shoes were burned.

Six farm buildings and a school house between Dexter and City Point were destroyed before the volunteers had the fire under control.

For a time, the fire threatened the towns of Dexter, Meadow Valley, Mather, Finley, City Point, Vedum and Pray.

With the fire fighting force increased to 500, and two companies of National guardsmen ready to respond if necessary, further danger was believed averted, although the peat fires will smolder until a heavy rain or snow-fall.

Most of the burned area was marsh land in Jackson, Wood, Portage, Monroe and Juneau counties.

The abundant wild life of the area was reported to have suffered heavily, but the only human injury occurred when several fire fighters were overcome by smoke.

Ordinary forest fire combat methods were useless against the marsh fire and water and chemicals were used.

SPLENDID SERVICE HELD

Revival Meeting of Sunday Attracts Many to Full Gospel Assembly

A splendid service was held last night at the Full Gospel Assembly where Evangelist R. S. Peterson is holding a revival campaign. The church building was filled nearly to capacity and a time of music and song was enjoyed by those present.

The evangelist then brought an illustrated sermon on "Time." He used a large chart clock with the different dispensations on the face instead of hours and minutes.

The message heart stirring and very plain and understandable held the interest of everybody all the way through. At the close of the message the altars were filled with those who wished to pray and they kept coming until extra accommodations had to be made to make room for them. Among this number were several who were seeking salvation.

The meetings will continue each night throughout the week at 8 o'clock.

SHELLFIRE REALISM SEEN IN PHOTOPLAY

Explosives enough to demolish a city were used in the greatest battle scenes ever filmed in "All Quiet on the Western Front." Universal's picture of Erich Maria Remarque's masterpiece of the war, which opened today at the Paramount theatre.

More than 20,000 pounds of black powder and six tons of dynamite were used to give the effect of shell fire and mine explosions. Six thousand bombs were planted and exploded on the battlefield covering 20 acres of land on the Irvine ranch, near Los Angeles.

Five hundred shells of various sizes were sent screaming and whistling through the air, actually fired from guns, to give the proper sound effect of shells in flight. These shells, of course, were fired far over the heads of the soldiers participating in the scenes. The effect of landing and bursting shells was gained by planted bombs exploded by electricity at the proper moment.

One of the terrific war scenes of the picture shows a French village under bombardment. In this scene shells are seen bursting in the air over the village occupied by a thousand and more German soldiers. A building is blown to fragments. Other explosions tear up the streets and shatter walls. In another scene a church is demolished by three direct shell hits while a company of German soldiers is passing it.

Twelve flame throwers were used in certain scenes. A battery of 20 German howitzers, captured by the American army and now trophies at various American Legion posts, were used in the bombardment scenes. These guns were loaned to Universal by the legionnaires.

BOWLING ALLEYS OPEN WEDNESDAY

New Equipment Purchased, Interior
Altered, New Counters
Installed

Opening of the bowling alleys in the Elks building under management of C. C. Van Esen and Earl DeRoche will take place Wednesday at 7 p. m., it was announced today.

All new kickbacks with fibre board, also new cushions, have been installed. The Brunswick Balke Collender Co. have completely overhauled each alley and they are now as fine as any in the state. A. B. C. regulation league pins will be used throughout the year.

The interior has been completely altered and new counters installed as well as new benches for the bowlers, the changes making more room for the bowlers.

The decorations consist of shades of light tan and pea green with black trimmings.

Mr. Van Esen and Mr. DeRoche are now in Minneapolis purchasing new balls which will be here for the opening. A meeting of all bowlers will be held at the alleys Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Royal Neighbors Team Here to Initiate Class at Crosby Convention

Among those from the Brainerd chapter, Royal Neighbors, who will leave tomorrow morning for Crosby to attend the district convention are the following: Ethel Thomas, Lizzie Britton, Irene Stevens, Bertha Strobel, Josie Nelson, Lydia McKay, Emma Fricker, Freda Andrews, Katherine Riecke, Dianna Hopper, Anna Bros, Rose Clark, Elizabeth Wise, Libby Bourgeois, Elizabeth Beste, Margaret Anderson, Bada Selen, Elsie Hanski, Marie Wheeler, Vina LeVasseur, Clara Gilmer, Mary Anderson, Vina Gilmer, Esther Bourquin, Edna Peterson, Maggie Meyers, Mattie Temple, Josie Morrison, Henrietta Temple and Claribel Swanson.

The Brainerd team will put on the initiation Tuesday evening on a class of candidates. Sessions will open in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. A banquet will be held at 6 o'clock at the Swedish Immanuel Lutheran church, served by the ladies aid of that church.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN CUBA REPORTED 'MOST ALARMING'

Washington, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—The political and economic situation in Cuba is "most alarming," Senator David I. Walsh, democrat, Mass., warned in a statement issued here upon his return from Havana. He urged that the United States "do something to prevent the economic collapse and political disturbances that seem to be inevitable" unless immediate action is taken.

"What has happened recently in other South American republics would seem to be inevitable in Cuba," Walsh said, "unless the influence of our government is exerted immediately to avert trouble."

Walsh urged that "an immediate, direct and absolute policy of action" be undertaken by the present Cuban administration, by our government or by joint action of both.

The senator said one of the causes of the "impending crisis" was the "poverty and unemployment are feeding the flames of revolt." He said that in his opinion, however, "the state of mind of the Cuban people is the most disturbing factor."

BIDS WANTED

Sealed proposals will be received at Fort Ripley State Bank by the school board of Dist. No. 9, Crow Wing County, Minn., until 2 P. M., Sept. 27th, 1930, for the erection and completion of a school building at Fort Ripley. Plans and specifications may be seen at the Bank.

Board reserves right to reject any or all bids.

In the presence of members of the church and a large group of friends, many coming from out of the city, the cornerstone laying ceremonies were observed yesterday for the new St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The box preserved in the cornerstone which weighs 1,000 lbs. contained interesting data concerning the church relics and gifts from members of the church, Guilds and Sunday school.

Another stone of interest imbedded in the foundation at one of the adjoining buttresses, was the cornerstone of the first mission at Crow Wing constructed in the year 1851. In this stone is roughly carved a broken tomahawk, pipe of peace and the cross.

KINDER PICTURES INDIAN BATTLES

Relics of Redskins Days on Display at Farm Unit
Meeting

Judge L. B. Kinder was the speaker at the Farm Bureau Unit meeting Saturday evening held at the Ossipee school house, town of Center. He spoke on the Indian battles in that vicinity.

An interesting collection of Indian relics was on display, among them being a pipestone pipe, owned by C. A. Converse. This pipe was given to his father by Chief Rain in the Face when Mr. Converse was a boy living at Millbank, S. D. Chief Rain-in-the-Face was a frequent visitor at their home.

He was one of the leaders of the Sioux who massacred General Custer on the Rosebud. At one time when a prisoner, Captain Tom Custer, the general's brother, insulted him and struck him across the face. At this time Rain-in-the-Face threatened that he would cut Tom Custer's heart out. He afterwards escaped, becoming one of the leaders with Sitting Bull in the war party that wiped out Custer's command.

After the battle Tom Custer's body was found, with his heart cut out and it has always been thought that Rain-in-the-Face made good his threat. Dr. Camp, who was an agency physician before coming to Brainerd, had a whip which Rain-in-the-Face had made for him.

Other relics on display included a key of an old mission presumably the "Presbyterian Mission" which was located on Dr. Camp's farm. A C. Taylor also exhibited a handsome quilt, spun and woven by his great grandmother, and a butcher knife, one edge of which was a saw and the other a knife, used by his great grandfather. Both were over a hundred years old.

Mrs. Iva Durham exhibited a square dress, beautifully embroidered with beads in the Chippewa pattern.

A luncheon was served at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the farm home of A. C. Taylor. Ed Taylor is the president of the Unit.

BIDS WANTED

1. For erection of one room school, built according to state plans and specifications No. 3-C now on file with the clerk.

2. Heating and ventilating system according to plans and specifications. All bids must be in before 5 P. M. Oct. 6, 1930, at District No. 13 school house.

Any contractors submitting a bid agrees to furnish the materials and do the work as set forth in the plans and specifications. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for not less than four per cent (4%) of the amount of the bid, payable to school board, which check will be returned to each unsuccessful bidder when the contract is let, and to the successful bidder when the contract is executed.

Surety bonds must be furnished by successful bidders. The school board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

BRAINERD 25 Years Ago

September 22, 1905

Word came from the north today that Frank Whitford, Jr., son of Frank Whitford, Sr., of this city, while duck hunting was accidentally shot in the arm and it is doubtful if the member can be saved. The accident occurred near Northome. The young man was hunting alone, and in taking the gun out of the boat it was discharged, the charge striking him in the wrist and lacerating the arm to the elbow.

Dr. J. L. Camp accompanied A. L. Roising to Walker and they selected the site for the farm house on the land bought by the state for a T. B. sanitarium. Dr. Camp is a member of the commission appointed some time ago to take up the matter of erecting such a sanitarium, and A. L. Roising is chairman of the state board of control under the administration of Gov. Johnson.

Mrs. Callie Howe one of the national speakers of the W. C. T. U. will lecture in the Baptist church on Monday evening.

John Falconer was given a steel engraving picture of all the American authors, ladies and gentlemen, by Mrs. Robert Caughie who left the city a short time ago. He has presented it to the Brainerd public library.

Benjamin P. Entriken of Washington, D. C., a brother of W. E. Entriken who has been visiting in the city for a few days on his return from Denver, Colo., where he attended the G. A. R. encampment, left today for his home.

The Atlas Milling Company mills are now operating on full time. They have been undergoing an almost complete renovation during the past two months with extensive improvements and increase in the capacity of the plant. It gives a market for all kinds of grain, something that has been lacking in Brainerd.

Down

Wild grass was the only crop to have a normal general year in Crow Wing county this season, County Agent E. G. Roth reported today in a summary of yields.

In his verbal report he said that wild grasses went a ton and a half to the acre, tame hay went one ton to the acre, potatoes yielded 50 bushels to the acre, oats and barley went between 15 to 20 bushels to the acre while corn was between 50 to 60 percent under normal.

Potatoes normally yielded 150 bushels, tame grass 2½ tons, oats and barley 35 bushels.

FIGHTERS CONTROL 3 FIRES IN COUNTY

Quick Work of Forestry Men Prevent
Serious Blazes in Three Townships

TWO HAYSTACKS BURN

500 Volunteers Quell Wisconsin's Most Serious Marsh Fire in
25 Years

Quick work by fire fighters of the state forestry department under the direction of E. H. Rhodes, district forest ranger, prevented the spread over the week end of three fires in Crow Wing county, blam to carelessness of smokers in the woods.

While the fires continue, Mr. Rhodes said this afternoon they were practically under control and would do no extensive damage.

The fires burned two haystacks but did not damage any farm buildings. No farmers were threatened.

The fire in Mission township swept over 50 acres, while that in Irondelet township burned over 30 acres and 20 acres were blackened by the fire in Nokay Lake township.

SEVEN BUILDINGS BURN TO GROUND

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—A triangular area of 500,000 acres in central Wisconsin was a treacherous, flaming carpet today as 500 volunteers brought under control the state's most serious marsh fire in 25 years.

The flames ate into the ground to the depth of several inches, spreading beneath the surface until they reached the dried roots of trees and then shooting upward into the open.

Trees, their leaves still green, fell when their roots had been burned through close to the surface. When fire fighters stood too long in the spot, their shoes were burned.

Six farm buildings and a school house between Dexter and City Point were destroyed before the volunteers had the fire under control.

For a time, the fire threatened the towns of Dexter, Meadow Valley, Mathers, Finley, City Point, Vedum and Pray.

With the fire fighting force increased to 500, and two companies of National guardsmen ready to respond if necessary, further danger was believed averted, although the peat fires will smolder until a heavy rain or snow-fall.

Most of the burned area was marsh land in Jackson, Wood, Portage, Monroe and Juneau counties.

The abundant wild life of the area was reported to have suffered heavily, but the only human injury occurred when several fire fighters were overcome by smoke.

Ordinary forest fire combat methods were useless against the marsh fire and water and chemicals were used.

SPLendid SERVICE HELD

Revival Meeting of Sunday Attracts Many to Full Gospel Assembly

A splendid service was held last night at the Full Gospel Assembly where Evangelist R. S. Peterson is holding a revival campaign. The church building was filled nearly to capacity and a time of music and song was enjoyed by those present.

The evangelist then brought an illustrated sermon on "Time." He used a large chart clock with the different dispensations on the face instead of hours and minutes.

The message heart stirring also very plain and understandable held the interest of everybody all the way through. At the close of the message the altars were filled with those who wished to pray and they kept coming until extra accommodations had to be made to make room for them. Among this number were several who were seeking salvation.

The meetings will continue each night throughout the week at 8 o'clock.

SHELLFIRE REALISM SEEN IN PHOTOPLAY

Explosives enough to demolish a city were used in the greatest battle scenes ever filmed in "All Quiet on the Western Front." Universal's picturization of Erich Maria Remarque's masterful book of the war, which opened today at the Paramount theatre.

More than 20,000 pounds of black powder and six tons of dynamite were used to give the effect of shell fire and mine explosions. Six thousand bombs were planted and exploded on the battlefield covering 20 acres of land on the Irvine ranch, near Los Angeles.

Five hundred shells of various sizes were sent screaming and whistling through the air, actually fired from guns, to give the proper sound effect of shells in flight. These shells, of course, were fired far over the heads of the soldiers participating in the scenes. The effect of landing and bursting shells was gained by planted bombs exploded by electricity at the proper moment.

One of the terrific war scenes of the picture shows a French village under bombardment. In this scene shells are seen bursting in the air over the village occupied by a thousand and more German soldiers. A building is blown to fragments. Other explosions tear up the streets and shatter walls. In another scene a church is demolished by three direct shell hits while a company of German soldiers is passing it. Twelve flame throwers were used in certain scenes. A battery of 20 German howitzers, captured by the American army and now trophies at various American Legion posts, were used in the bombardment scenes. These guns were loaned to Universal by the legionnaires.

BOWLING ALLEYS OPEN WEDNESDAY

New Equipment Purchased, Interior
Altered, New Counters
Installed

Opening of the bowling alleys in the Elks building under management of C. C. Van Essen and Earl DeRoche will take place Wednesday at 7 p. m., it was announced today.

All new kickbacks with fibre board, also new cushions, have been installed. The Brunswick Balke Colender Co. have completely overhauled each alley and they are now as fine as any in the state. A. B. C. regulation league pins will be used throughout the year.

The interior has been completely altered and new counters installed as well as new benches for the bowlers, the changes making more room for the bowlers.

The decorations consist of shades of light tan and pea green with black trimmings.

Mr. Van Essen and Mr. DeRoche are now in Minneapolis purchasing new balls which will be here for the opening. A meeting of all bowlers will be held at the alleys Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Royal Neighbors Team Here to Initiate Class at Crosby Convention

Among those from the Brainerd chapter, Royal Neighbors, who will leave tomorrow morning for Crosby to attend the district convention are the following: Ethel Thomas, Lizzie Britton, Irene Stevens, Bertha Strobel, Jessie Nelson, Lydia McKay, Emma Fricker, Freda Andrews, Katherine Riecke, Dianna Hopper, Anna Brose, Rose Clark, Elizabeth Wise, Libby Bourgeois, Elizabeth Beste, Margaret Anderson, Boda Selen, Elsie Hanski, Marie Wheeler, Vina LeVasseur, Clara Gilmer, Mary Anderson, Vina Gilmer, Esther Bourquin, Edna Peterson, Maggie Meyers, Mattie Temple, Josie Morrison, Henrietta Temple and Claribel Swanson.

The Brainerd team will put on the initiation Tuesday evening on a class of candidates. Sessions will open in the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. A banquet will be held at 6 o'clock at the Swedish Immanuel Lutheran church, served by the ladies aid of that church.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN CUBA REPORTED 'MOST ALARMING'

Washington, Sept. 22.—(U.P.)—The political and economic situation in Cuba is "most alarming," Senator David I. Walsh, democrat, Mass., warned in a statement issued here upon his return from Havana. He urged that the United States "do something to prevent the economic collapse and political disturbances that seem to be inevitable" unless immediate action is taken.

"What has happened recently in other South American republics would seem to be inevitable in Cuba," Walsh said, "unless the influence of our government is exerted immediately to avert trouble."

Walsh urged that "an immediate, direct and absolute policy of action" be undertaken by the present Cuban administration, by our government or by joint action of both.

The senator said one of the causes of the "impending crisis" was the world wide depression, adding that "poverty and unemployment are feeding the flames of revolt." He said that in his opinion, however, "the state of mind of the Cuban people is the most disturbing factor."

BIDS WANTED

Sealed proposals will be received at Fort Ripley State Bank by the school board of Dist. No. 9, Crow Wing county, Minn., until 2 P. M., Sept. 27th, 1936, for the erection and completion of a school building at Fort Ripley. Plans and specifications may be seen at the bank.

Board reserves right to reject any or all bids.

HISTORICAL STONE IN FOUNDATION

Cornerstone of First Mission at Crow

St. Paul's Church

CEREMONY IMPRESSIVE

Box Preserves Church History; Large

Rites

In the presence of members of the church and a large group of friends, many coming from out of the city, the cornerstone laying ceremonies were observed yesterday for the new St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The box preserved in the cornerstone which weighs 1,000 lbs. contained interesting data concerning the church relics and gifts from members of the church, Guilds and Sunday school.

Another stone of interest imbedded in the foundation at one of the adjoining buttresses, was the cornerstone of the first mission at Crow Wing constructed in the year 1851. In this stone is roughly carved a broken tomahawk, pipe of peace and the cross.

KINDER PICTURES INDIAN BATTLES

Relics of Redskin Days on Display at Farm Unit
Meeting

Judge L. B. Kinder was the speaker at the Farm Bureau Unit meeting Saturday evening held at the Ossipee school house, town of Center. He spoke on the Indian battles in that vicinity.

An interesting collection of Indian relics was on display, among them being a pipestone pipe, owned by C. A. Converse. This pipe was given to his father by Chief Rain in the Face when Mr. Converse was a boy living at Millbank, S. D. Chief Rain-in-the-Face was a frequent visitor at their home. He was one of the leaders of the Sioux who massacred General Custer on the Rosebud. At one time when a prisoner, Captain Tom Custer, the general's brother, insulted him and struck him across the face. At this time Rain-in-the-Face threatened that he would cut Tom Custer's heart out. He afterwards escaped, becoming one of the leaders with Sitting Bull in the war party that wiped out Custer's command. After the battle Tom Custer's body was found, with his heart cut out and it has always been thought that Rain-in-the-Face made good his threat. Dr. Camp, who was an agency physician before coming to Brainerd, had a whip which Rain-in-the-Face had made for him.

Other relics on display included a key of an old mission presumably the "Presbyterian Mission" which was located on Dr. Camp's farm. A. C. Taylor also exhibited a handsome quilt, spun and woven by his great grandmother, and a butcher knife, one edge of which was a saw and the other a knife, used by his great grandfather. Both were over a hundred years old.

Mrs. Iva Durham exhibited a square dress, beautiful embroidered with beads in the Chippewa pattern.

A luncheon was served at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the farm home of A. C. Taylor. Ed Taylor is the president of the Unit.

BIDS WANTED

1. For erection of one room school, built according to state plans and specifications No. 3-C now on file with the clerk.

2. Heating and ventilating system according to plans and specifications. All bids must be in before 5 P. M., Oct. 6, 1936, at District No. 13 school house.

Any contractors submitting a bid agrees to furnish the materials and do the work as set forth in the plans and specifications. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for not less than four per cent (4%) of the amount of the bid, payable to school board, which check will be returned to each unsuccessful bidder when the contract is let, and to the successful bidder when the contract is executed. Surety bonds must be furnished by successful bidders. The school board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

BRainerD 25 Years Ago

September 22, 1905

Word came from the north today that Frank Whitford, Jr., son of Frank Whitford, Sr., of this city, while duck hunting was accidentally shot in the arm and it is doubtful if the member can be saved. The accident occurred near Northome. The young man was hunting alone, and in taking the gun out of the boat it was discharged, the charge striking him in the wrist and lacerating the arm to the elbow.

Dr. J. L. Camp accompanied A. L. Rosing to Walker and they selected the site for the farm house on the land bought by the state for a T. B. sanitarium. Dr. Camp is a member of the commission appointed some time ago to take up the matter of erecting such a sanitarium, and A. L. Rosing is chairman of the state board of control under the administration of Gov. Johnson.

Mrs. Callie Howe one of the national speakers of the W. C. T. U. will lecture in the Baptist church on Monday evening.

John Falconer was given a steel engraving picture of all the American authors, ladies and gentlemen, by Mrs. Robert Caughie who left the city a short time ago. He has presented it to the Brainerd public library.

Benjamin P. Entriaken of Washington, D. C., a brother of W. E. Entriaken who has been visiting in the city for a few days on his return from Denver, Colo., where he attended the G. A. R. encampment, left today for his home.

The Atlas Milling Company mills are now operating on full time. They have been undergoing an almost complete renovation during the past two months with extensive improvements and increase in the capacity of the plant. It gives a market for all kinds of grain, something that has been lacking in Brainerd.

WILD GRASSES ONLY NORMAL CROP YIELD

Potato Crop Only 50 Bushels to Acre;
Oats, Barley
Down

Wild grass was the only crop to have a normal general year in Crow Wing county this season, County Agent E. G. Roth reported today in a summary of yields.

In his verbal report he said that wild grasses went a ton and a half to the acre, tame hay went one ton to the acre, potatoes yielded 50 bushels to the acre, oats and barley went between 15 to 20 bushels to the acre while corn was between 50 to 60 percent under normal.

Potatoes normally yielded 150 bushels, tame grass 2½ tons, oats and barley 35 bushels.

Pleasant Surprise Party

Mrs. Anna G. Vaughn was surprised Sunday afternoon and evening by a number of her friends at her home, 807 Main street, it being her birthday anniversary.

Cards were enjoyed, with honors won in the afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. L. Hinch, and in the evening by Mrs. Vaughn and Will Hoffman.

A luncheon was served.

180 CANS OF TROUT PLANTED

Biggest Shipment Ever Received at Brainerd in One Carload
Friday Evening

One hundred and eighty cans of trout, the biggest shipment ever received at Brainerd in one carload, landed here Friday night on the 11 o'clock train and were removed by truck and planted in all the popular streams in the vicinity, with the exception of Corey brook. A truck had been scheduled for that stream, with 30 cans, but was not sent because no interested fisherman was on hand to accompany the truck and attend to the distribution of the fingerlings.

The brook trout filled 60 cans, with about 150 to the can. The balance contained German brown trout, with about 250 to the can. The evening was ideal for planting, it was chilly, and not a fingerling was lost out of the 38,000 total.

Employees of the Glenwood fish car have told A. A. Weideman that they always like to come to Brainerd because there was no delay or uncertainty about having the trucks lined up to receive the fingerlings or fish fry.

PLAN HIKE TO AHREN'S HILL

Arranged for Wednesday Evening,
Sept. 24, by Brainerd
Hiking Club

The first hike of the season by the Brainerd Hiking club has been arranged for Wednesday evening, Sept. 24. All hikers will meet at the court house by 7:30 P. M. The course will be westward around the river and the destination will be Ahren's hill. A large group is expected to take this hike.

Each person is asked to bring their own lunch, cup and spoon. Coffee will be furnished for which a charge of 10 cents is made. The surplus will be deposited in the bank and as the fund increases it will be used by the club to defray expenses on various occasions.

Everybody, both young and old are welcome to join the club. There is no charge made to become a member. All that is necessary is to be present at the hikes and watch this paper for announcements of coming events.

Junior Library Club to Meet Weekly, Fridays; Year Officers Elected

The Junior Library club held their first meeting in the juvenile department of the Brainerd Public Library on Friday, September 19. A very interesting meeting was held, at which plans for the following year were made and passed upon. Mrs. T. E. Jones gave many helpful and interesting pointers. It was decided that the club will meet once a week on Friday afternoons from 4:15 to 5:15 o'clock.

Election of officers was held as follows:

President—Dorothy Maghan.
Vice President—Dolly Wilson.
Secretary—Gertrude Bane.
Treasurer—Gordon Vadnais.
Permanent chairman of program committee—Rosemary McKenna.
Permanent chairman of party committee—Dolly Wilson.

Many of the old members of the club returned with new ones, ranging in age from seven to 15 years. New members are always welcome.

CLUB MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE MEETS

Musical Club Section Entertained by Chairman Mrs. J. A.
Thabes, Sr.

The membership committee of the Brainerd Musical club held its first meeting of the club year at the lake home of the chairman, Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Sr., last week.

Plans were made for a very thorough canvass of the city for memberships, and a great deal of enthusiasm was expressed regarding the prospects for a banner membership.

The membership list from last year's

Year Book was read and quite frequently two or three would offer to take the same name. In fact, one new enthusiastic member of the committee had taken time by the forelock and secured several pledges in advance. The names of many new residents were also added to the list of prospects.

After the business meeting, the hostess served dainty refreshments. The personnel of the membership committee consists of:

Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Sr., chairman, Mesdames J. P. Anderson, G. I. Barick, A. E. Gustafson, J. M. Hayes, deaux, Thomas Crowley, J. L. Frei-John A. Hoffbauer, O. E. Johnson, Wm. J. Lyons, C. A. Danish History Centers in Old City of Viborg

Viborg is one of the oldest (some maintain the oldest) cities in Denmark. As far as history goes back, there has always been a city there. It is beautifully situated on two hills and along the shores of two lakes. For centuries the Danish kings had to be crowned there before they were actually regarded as kings.

The city has always been a religious center. In the Twelfth and Thirteenth centuries there were 22 churches and many cloisters, although the town at that time had only about 2,000 inhabitants. The city has burned several times, which accounts for the fact that most of the buildings dating from the Middle Ages are gone. Even now, Viborg is one of the most beautiful cities in Denmark, and thousands of tourists visit it each year. The cathedral is one of the main attractions. It is decorated with frescoes from ceiling to floor, depicting the old and new testaments. The cathedral is said to be the only one of its kind north of the Alps. Viborg is situated almost in the center of the peninsula Jylland, which forms the largest part of the kingdom of Denmark.

Viborg is the capital of the amt or county bearing its name and has been the seat of a bishop since the Eleventh century.

Bright Idea That May Have Averted Tragedy

Allusions to the effective use of ridicule against his opponents made by the late Lord Balfour during the term of his chief secretaryship for Ireland recalls an incident of long ago, when a body of convicted prisoners who had been concerned in one of the rebellions—the 1848—had to be marched through the streets of Dublin. The authorities had been warned that a desperate attempt at rescue might be made by the mob and even though a military escort had been provided, there was some uneasiness. In these circumstances a really brilliant notion occurred to the officer in command of the troops. He gave instructions at the last moment that the suspender buttons on the trousers of the prisoners were to be cut off and thus they had to walk through the streets holding up their trousers. The spectacle was greeted with roars of laughter by the crowd, and no more was heard of the attempted rescue.—Montreal Daily Herald.

Dame Fashion
Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

One of the greatest style-setters at the present moment is Old Mother Hen! Her style offering that is so widely acclaimed is the hue called "egg shell." Dame Fashion feels quite sure that entering any women's wear shop she could find within ten minutes practically every article that a girl or woman delights to put on—from jewelry to shoes, from hats to lingerie, in the soft egg-shell shade. In less poetic days it was sometimes termed "oyster white." It is a shade that is almost white—and still with a difference.

Styles in clothes have an intimate cousin in styles in table manners, and sometimes Dame Fashion is about ready to believe that the latter in their way are as subject to change as dress fashions. For instance, Dame Fashion as a child was earnestly taught that it was highly improper to tip a soup plate, so to enjoy the last of its contents. And while she was being taught this, the same lesson went to a million, more or less, of American children.

But Dame Fashion is quite a soup addict. She comes to that course hungrier than to any other, and consequently it tastes the best. Soup portions are often rather small, and years ago Dame Fashion decided that common sense should rule, and she would have every last soup-drop if she wanted it. This very summer, with the stamp of the highest etiquette authority, has appeared in print the statement that it is entirely good manners to tip a soup plate, at the side away from the diner, so that the last of the portion can be eaten!

Dame Fashion has lately found pleasure in handling one of the season's novelties, in "tear-drop" jewelry. The strings of pearly drops, some of them in sun-tan or delicate pastel shades as well as the creamy ones, are especially effective with low neck summer gowns. It was an immediate thought, "By wearing all of these delicious tears, one would surely never shed any real ones." That was probably the principle used by the ancient Greeks and Romans, when they gave gifts of "tear-bottles"—spoken of, too, in the Bible; Psalms 56, 8.

Garden viewing is a delightful occupation when all of the conditions are right. If the paths are dry and the flowers happen to be on their best behavior, all is poetic. But to go hat-viewing is an occupation that never wearies.

Said Dame Fashion to a pretty milliner, "How about these big hats that we hear so much about?" "Yes; they are here," she said. But hats convenient for cars and not an anxiety in breezes are still the best beloved kinds. No roses could be prettier than the soft stitched hats of silk, in pastel shades. No feather could be lighter than some of the unlined straws, gauzy as a fairy's wing.

With summer temperature about.

Dame Fashion almost gasped when a black velvet beret was brought out for her special admiration. "Velvet?"

"Oh, yes; velvet is coming right in. But notice this specialty." And then Dame Fashion saw, that from the top of this beret hung little folds of soft blue grosgrain ribbon. So far, so good. But in these days of matching ensembles, suppose your dress were not of soft blue? Then the special virtue of that beret was revealed. Like the agile chameleon, and unlike the leopard, it could change its spots. A parcel of little loops of ribbon—pink, white, gold or black—each with its patent fastening to adjust to the beret, made it a "matching accessory" for any sort of gown.

"The SEABRIDE"
By BEN AMES WILLIAMS

THE ROMANCE
EVENTFUL
CRUISE

DAN'L looked away. "Of course, Brander doesn't intend to claim it all."

"Ye think not?" Noll asked anxiously. "No," said Dan'l. "He knows he can't. It's part of the takings of the Sally."

Noll wagged his head dolefully. "Aye, but will the man see it that way?"

"He'll have to."

The captain looked up at Dan'l cautiously.

"Did you mark the greed in the one eye of Mauger when they came aboard?" he asked. "Mauger sets store by the stuff."

Dan'l snorted.

"Mauger! Pshaw!"

Noll shifted uneasily in his chair. "Just the same," he said.

"Mauger holds a grudge against me. He but awaits his chance for a knife in my back. And Brander is his friend, you'll mind."

"You're not afraid of the two of them. There's no need. I'll undertake to see to that."

"You're a strong man, Dan'l," said old Noll. "A strong, youthful man. But I'm getting old. Eh, Dan'l?"—his voice broke with his pity of himself—"eh, Dan'l, I've sailed the sea too long."

Dan'l said, with some scorn in his tone:

"Nevertheless, you're not afraid."

Faith opened the door from the after cabin just then and Dan'l checked his word. Faith looked from Dan'l to her husband, and her eyes hardened as she looked to Dan'l again.

"You'll not be saying Noll Wing is afraid of anything, Dan'l," she said mildly.

"I'm telling him," said Dan'l, "that he should not permit Brander to claim the ambergris for himself."

Faith smiled a little.

"You think Brander means to do that?"

"He has done it," said Dan'l stubbornly. "He claimed it in the beginning; he speaks of what he will do with it. He speaks of it as his own."

"I think," said Faith, "that something has robbed you of discernment, Dan'l. Why do you hate Brander? Is he not a good officer, a man?"

Dan'l might have spoken, but Brander himself dropped down the ladder from the deck just then; and Dan'l stood silently for a moment, watching.

Brander looked at Faith, and spoke to her and to the others. Then he went into the cabin that he shared with Willis Cox and closed the door. They all knew the thinness of the cabin walls. What they might say Brander could hear distinctly. Dan'l turned without a word and went on deck.

He met Tichel there and told him what had passed. Tichel grinned angrily.

"Aye," said the old man. "Brander comes and Jonahs us, so we sight no whale for a month on end, and then he's wishful to hold the prize that the Sally's boat found!" His teeth set, his fist rose.

Dan'l nodded his agreement.

"We'll see that he does not, in the end."

"Aye," said Tichel. "Aye, we'll see 't that!"

Roy Kilcup was a partisan of Dan'l, in this as in all things, and Roy alone faced Brander on the matter. He asked the fourth mate straightforwardly:

"Look here, do you claim that ambergris is yours?"

Brander smiled at the boy.

"Why, youngster?" he asked.

"Because I want to know," said Roy. That's why."

"Well," Brander chuckled, "others want to know. They're not sleeping well of nights, for wanting."

"Do you, or don't you?" Roy insisted.

Brander leaned toward him and whispered amiably:

"I'll tell you the day we touch at home," he promised. "Now, run along!"

Thus they were all perturbed; but Noll Wing took the matter harder than any, because Mauger, whom he feared, was concerned in it. His merry eyes gave him one sleepless night; he rose and found the whisky. And for the first time in all his life, Noll Wing drank himself into a stupor.

He had always been a steady drinker; he had often been inflamed with liquor. But his stomach was strong; he could carry it; he had never debauched himself. This time he became like a log, and Faith found him when she woke in the morning, sodden and helpless as a snoring log. He lay thus two days. And he woke at last with a scream of fright, and swore that Mauger was at him with a knife, so that Dan'l and Willis Cox had to hold the man quiet till the hallucination passed.

Faith and Brander had not, in this time, spoken a word alone together since they met Mr. Ham upon the beach after Brander joined Faith by the island pool. In the beginning Brander was forward, and a gulf separated them—not to mention forty feet of deck. Faith stayed aft; Brander stayed forward. Afterward, when Brander came into the cabin,

"Could I love him?"

For a man does not ask this question at all until he has begun to love; a woman, consciously or unconsciously, asks it at once. And until this question is answered—until the inner thing that is sex has made decision—a woman is reticent and slow to accept the communion of even casual conversation.

Faith, almost unconsciously, avoided Brander. She spoke with him, but there was a bar in her words. She saw him, but her eyes put a wall between them. She thought of him, but she hid her thoughts from herself. Brander felt this, and respected it. There was between them an unspoken agreement that held them apart.

This agreement was broken, and broken by Faith, on an afternoon some ten days after the finding of the ambergris.
